ARMY SET FOR FAST ACTION IF BILL PASSES

War Department Agencies In 48 States Prepared For Conscription Work.

START WITH 400,000

Expect Training to Begin Within Month After Measure Passes.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Registration under the pending conscription program has been set tentatively for Sept. 1, it was learned today, with the first 400,000 conscripts expected to start training a month later.

Although congress has yet to act on the necessary legislation, a war department official disclosed that agencies in the 48 states already had begun preparations for the selective service plan. The initial trainees probably will be chosen from men between 21 and 31 years old.

The senate military committee started the compulsory training issue toward a congressional decision by voting yesterday to recommend enactment of the Burke-Wadsworth bill. Committee members thought it would be ready for senate debate next week. Vigorous opposition has been forecast.

The committee, meanwhile, worked to perfect details of the measure, which provides for registration of all males between 18 and 64 years—a total of 42,000,000. Only those between 21 and 45—some 24,000,000—would be liable for active service. Those of other ages could be used for home defense purposes.

"One of the purposes of this wide registration is to make every home conscious of the national defense program," said Chairman Sheppard (D., Tex.)

Some states have started preparing lists of doctors, lawyers and other civilians needed to register and classify the 11,000,000-odd young men between 21 and 31 who probably will be the first enrolled.

Every state organization long since has received copies of the registration forms which will be used, barring changes by congress. These can be handed to printers for quantity production at a moment's notice.

Trusteeship Plan Hit by Lone Nation

Argentina Threatens to Block U. S. Sponsored Ban on Dictators.

HAVANA — (UP) — Argentina threatened today to block a United States sponsored plan whereby the 21 American republics would establish a "collective trusteeship" over orphaned European possessions in the western hemisphere to prevent totalitarianism entering the new world.

The plan was submitted to the consultative conference of American foreign ministers by its committee for the preservation of peace of which United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull is chairman and which includes representatives of Brazil, Venezuela, Panama, Ecuador and Paraguay.

It would establish a three-nation commission to govern Dutch and French possessions in this hemisphere until such time as they can be restored to their owners or declared self-sufficient and independent. The plan would be extended to include British possessions in this hemisphere if Germany and Italy conquered Great Britain.

Argentina headed the nations opposing the plan and it was indicated that she might submit a counter-proposal to the conference, which was called to strengthen American solidarity against Nazi-Fascist encroachment in the western hemisphere, establish American economic harmony and find means to stamp out "fifth column" and other subversive activities.

Leopoldo Melo, the Argentine delegate, voiced his country's objections to the plan in a long conference with Hull. It was not learned whether Melo had suggested any alternative proposal.

One of the main points in the plan calls for united American action in event the European "orphans" are threatened. It stressed that if it should be found necessary to take them over, it would be done in the interests of continental security, with no idea of territorial aggrandizement of any American nation. This would prevent Venezuela seizing the Netherlands West Indies, block Argentina's claims on Britain's Falkland islands and Guatemala's unspecified claims on British Honduras.

Aside from this question it was expected that there would be complete unity over proproposals for economic coopera-

Having Fun Trying to Beat the Heat

How to beat the heat—that's the problem confronting Mansfielders these days. And some of the younger generation have adopted ingenious methods of trying to keep cool. At top, Jimmie Burkhart, 263 East Arch street, and Ramon McMillan, R. D. 4, clad only in bathing trunks, lap at a huge chunk of ice. Center, little Karen Sue Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Wright, 354 West Sixth street, not only sits in a tub of cool water, but pours water over herself. Bottom, Patsy Frank, 30 Highland avenue, sits on ice and drinks an ice-cooled drink, with a swimming pool right handy in case neither the ice nor the drink gives the desired effect.

Don't haul your topcoat out of the mothballs yet or even break the lemonade pitcher, but Mansfield and all the sweltering middle west was offered hope today that a break in the year's most intense heat wave is on the way.

Forecasters said a mass of cold air is en route to this broiling area from Canada. The general forecast read:

"Generally fair and continued warm tonight and Thursday except local thundershowers Thursday afternoon. Friday, showers and cooler."

The temperature began its steady climb again in Mansfield today at 8 a. m. when the official thermometer read 79. In an hour it had jumped three degrees and by 10 a. m. had gone up four degrees more to 85. At 12 o'clock the reading was 90 and "going up. . . ." Yesterday's high reading was 91.

There was every indication that the 90-degrees-daily record that has remained unbroken since last Friday would continue.

Heavy showers in this area Monday night and Tuesday afternoon and evening permitted sleeping comfort and may have been at least partially responsible for the fact that no deaths or prostrations due to heat have been reported in the city.

Elsewhere in Ohio the excessive heat over the last six days has caused, directly and indirectly, at least 31 deaths. There were 10 dead from prostration and 21 from drowning.

William Smith, 15-year-old 4-H club member, was drowned last night in Sugar Creek, five miles northwest of Lima, while he was on a wiener roast party. At Cleveland, the temperature reach-

Defenders Say Major Battle Won In Skies

Claim 11 Enemy Airplanes Shot Down In Attack From Channel Coast to Scotland; Germans Strike With Bombs and Machine Guns.

(By United Press)

LONDON—German airplanes struck with bombs and machine guns from the English channel coast to Scotland today but were hurled back with severe losses in a major air battle along the southeast coast.

At least 11 German planes were reported shot down down on land or over the channel, although an air ministry communique at mid-afternoon listed only six victims of the British counter-attack.

More than 100 planes participated in the biggest battle near the southeast coast, when German bombers and fighters attacked a British convoy in a daring thrust against the Thames estuary east of London.

Pressing what appeared to be a preliminary phase of the long-threatened German blitzkrieg offensive, the Nazi bombers came over the British Isles in increasing numbers, accompanied by swift fighting planes.

One big squadron attacked the Thames estuary convoy while anti-aircraft guns roared along the thickly-populated and vitally important shipping and naval areas east of London.

Within a few minutes, Royal Air Force fighters had taken the air to oppose the German air fleet. They swooped down from high altitudes and, with guns blazing, drove the raiders back to sea.

The air ministry said that four German planes had been brought down—some landing near cottages on the coast—in a series of engaments up to noon in the southeastern area. Another was shot down by anti-aircraft guns.

A sixth plane was brought down by anti-aircraft guns on the northwest coast.

One of the German planes crashed in the middle of a road near some cottages on the southeast coast. Another crashed in a cornfield.

The pilot of the fighting plane that hit the road bailed out but his parachute broke and he fell to his death in a playing field at a school. The pilot of the other fighter was wounded. He was taken to a hospital under guard.

German planes bombed and machine gunned towns in northwest, northeast and southwest England

TIGHTENED: Nazis Say Grip Clamps on Commercial Ships

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN—Nazi air and sea raiders, tightening their drive for the battle of Britain, destroyed 31,000 tons of commercial shipping in the last 48 hours, the German high command said today.

They also sank a British submarine, two patrol boats and a mine sweeper, according to the high command.

Five of the merchant ships, totalling 17,000 tons, were sunk by German planes this morning in an attack on an armed British convoy, a communique said. A sixth commercial ship of 4,000 tons, last in the convoy, was set afire, the high command declared.

Two of the merchant ships, totalling 14,000 tons, were picked out of an armed British convoy by a submarine yesterday, an earlier communique said. The other British losses yesterday were inflicted by bombers.

The high command also declared that Nazi bombers had wrought extensive damage in southern England yesterday, hitting several rail lines and roads, as well as reserve barracks.

The communique claimed the destruction of three British planes during R. A. F. raids over northern and western Germany last

MALE NUDISTS WORRY POLICE

Men's Shorts Too Short Says Park Commissioner.

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—It's the men—not women—who are doing the strip tease here.

After two men were fined for appearing in too-short shorts, Park Commissioner Joseph Mestres ordered police to a male "bare" hunt.

Women dress properly, he said, but "if you let the men alone, they'd make a nudist camp of the parks."

OUT OF DEBT

Ohio G. O. P. Starts Campaign With Clean Slate.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Republican State Chairman Ed D. Schorr announced today that the party will enter the 1940 campaign with all debts paid.

Reports filed with the secretary of state show that the state central committee had a $75,173 deficit at the end of the 1938 campaign.

DROP LEAFLETS

British 'Bomb' France With 'Facts' On Situation

LONDON — (AP) — The British practice of dropping leaflets over France to convey to the French people the real facts of the situation," will be continued and extended, Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper informed the house of commons today.

Prospect Park to Be Re-Opened for Childrens' Play

The Mansfield board of park commissioners today voted to reopen the Prospect playground closed during the past several months.

Roy Vaughn, president of the board, said the commission had decided to open the playlot, recently seeded, only for childrens' recreational purposes.

Park workers today were removing the fence from the grounds on all but the west side of the grounds. Vaughn said that the field could not be used for baseball this year.

"The field is not in condition for ball playing and the board has deemed it advisable to prohibit ball games at the park until next year when a good sod will have developed," he added.

He explained that the park commission had spent $2,500 last fall grading and seeding the lot and believed if they waited another year it would have one of the best ball diamonds in the city at the park.

Johns park which also underwent a similar project will remain closed until next summer.

F.D.R OUTLINES CAMPAIGN PLAN

Attacks Republican Strategy And Assumes Wallace to Keep Cabinet Post.

(By United Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt today had presented the outline of the campaign he will conduct for a third term—a hard-hitting frontal attack on the Republican ticket and Democrats who desert their party to support Wendell L. Willkie.

Mr. Roosevelt centered his fire on four Democrats who have rebelled against a third term to join cause with the G. O. P. nominee.

He attacked Republican strategy by announcing that he assumed his running mate, Henry A. Wallace would remain in his cabinet as secretary of agriculture Republican leaders have demanded that Wallace resign contending that the millions he will disburse this year in farm benefit payments might have a coercive influence on the elections.

Mr Roosevelt followed the lines

Brizzi, or Puzzo, Asks Citizenship Papers, Hits Snag

Joseph Brizzi, 33, of Mansfield, had run into a snag today in his application for first citizenship papers.

Norman P. Henry, naturalization clerk at the courthouse, said he would confer with immigration authorities at Youngstown on the case, after it developed that a Joseph Brizzi, who also gave the name of Joseph Puzzo, had served three prison sentences. Police identification records show Joseph Brizzi and Joe Puzzo are the same person.

Brizzi, appearing at the courthouse yesterday to make application for papers, admitted that he had served a federal prison sentence for possession of counterfeit money.

Henry said the department of immigration has the right to refuse any application for citizenship, or to delay such application for a period of five years during which the applicant must prove that he has been a law-abiding citizen.

Brizzi was released recently from federal prison after serving approximately ten months. He

(By International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—A shirt-sleeve speech, delivered to a Republican audience in Cheyenne, Wyoming, and two preliminary blasts in Colorado at the third term and the New Deal and political machines, today marked the progress of Wendell L. Willkie's campaign for the presidency.

In a crowded day, which began in Colorado Springs, his vacation spot, at six in the morning and ended in Salt Lake City at 1 a. m. today, Willkie, who insists that his campaign will not open until his acceptance speech on August 17, delivered some of the hottest blasts ever unleashed in a presidential campaign.

In addition he made a particularly important statement—that he paid speakers will support his cause.

In a matter of 14 hours he made speeches at Brighton and Greeley, Colo., and Cheyenne but

Four Injured In Two Collisions Near City Today

Four persons were injured near here early today in two automobile accidents, according to reports of state highway patrolmen.

One of the injured, Mrs. Lloyd Rossman, 35, of Port Arthur, Texas, is in General hospital with a slight brain concussion, contusions of the head and lacerations of both legs.

She was injured when an auto in which she and her three children were riding, and driven by George Butler, 32, also of Port Arthur, collided at 1:15 a. m. today on route 42, two miles north of Lexington with another car driven by Richard Linton, 22, of Lexington.

Also injured were Linton, who suffered an injured left shoulder, and lacerations about the legs.

DENY REPORT

Russia Says No Demand Made on Rumania for Democracy.

MOSCOW —(AP)— Tass official Soviet foreign news agency said today it was authorized to deny that the Soviet union had sent to Rumania a note demanding formation of a Democratic government there.

Tass said that any report to this effect was "devoid of any foundation."

CONFINED: Daladier, Aides Facing Punishment for War

(By Associated Press)

VICHY, France—Former Premier Edouard Daladier, whose government declared war on Germany last fall, was confined within the city of Marseille today under orders of the new Petain-Laval regime, marked for "investigation" and possible punishment for alleged responsibility for France's entry into the conflict and for her defeat.

Also confined to Marseille pending "investigation" with Daladier were several other former government leaders and members of parliament who arrived at the southern port yesterday from French Morocco, whither they had sailed with Daladier on June 20. This was two days before signing of the French-German armistice but, according to the present government, three days after that armistice was asked for.

The government of Premier Marshal Philippe Petain and Vice Premier Pierre Laval was described authoritatively as "entering a new and more vigorous phase" of activity and it was added that "punishment will come for those responsible for the war."

Just what the punishment would be was not immediately clear, but last night, simultaneously with announcement of the steps against Daladier and his aides, the cabinet approved a decree for withdrawal of French citizenship and confiscation of all property of all Frenchmen who left France "without valid reasons" between May 10, the day the German western offensive began, and June 30, eight days after signing of the armistice.

SELLING ORDERS KEEP MARKET ON LOW SIDE TODAY

Bethlehem, Western Union Among Losers; Commodities Showed Mixed Changes.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A dribble of selling orders weighed the stock market slightly on the downside today without breaking prices out of the narrow range of recent sessions.

Among the losers were Bethlehem, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, J. C. Penney, Standard Oil of New Jersey, U. S. Gypsum, Chrysler, and Kennecott.

Commodities and bonds marked time, showing small mixed changes.

Another batch of mid-year corporate earnings statements afforded stock market followers an opportunity to study the scope of recent profit gains.

Washington reports that drafts of proposed excess profits levies soon would be placed before congressional committees for study also kept the tax angle before the marketplace.

Feature Girl Shot From Gas-Filled Balloon

Fair Directors Book Big Act For 3 Days

A brand new attraction so far as Richland county fairs are concerned is one staged by the "Flying Allens" spectacular aerial act which has played some of the largest state and county fairs in the nation.

The act features a balloon ascension in which a cannon is attached to the bottom of the balloon instead of the usual wicker basket carrying the balloonist.

Reaching a height of 8,000 feet the cannon discharges and the explosion shoots out a girl who glides to earth in a parachute.

Two weeks ago in Streator, Ill., the "Flying Allens" were the feature attraction on a homecoming program. More than 15,000 persons witnessed the ascension. Thousands of others have seen the act in other performances over the country.

The "Flying Allens" will appear in Mansfield on three afternoons of the fair, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 1, 2 and 3.

Their act will be given in addition to the regular grandstand performances, including the BXB rodeo, circus acts and the Boone County Jamboree.

Advance notices say this about the "Flying Allens" act:

The only act of its kind in the world, a balloon-cannon act, the Flying Allens with their 88-foot balloon suspend a cannon and from it Miss Florence Allen is shot into space from some 3000 feet in the air. This is one of the most spectacular acts in existence and against a beautiful summer sky is most colorful and picturesque.

Boone County Jamboree Ends Fair Week

Winding up the fair week's program, Richland county fair directors will stage one of the most outstanding attractions of the week, the Boone county Jamboree, regarded as the tops in radio hillbilly entertainers.

The Jamboree will perform in both afternoon and evening of Saturday Aug. 3. In addition, Cleveland's Troop A of Mounted Policemen will also perform both afternoon and evening before the grandstand

The afternoon performance will also be featured by the sensational balloon ascension in which a giant gas bag travels to a height of 3,000 feet. A cannon, attached to the balloon, discharges and from the barrel emeregs a girl, one of the "Flying Allens" who floats safely to earth in a parachute.

The Jamboree program this year will present a cast of its most popular stars, fair directors have been informed.

These include Lazi Jim Day, homespun humorist and sage of Short Creek, Ky; Clem and Maggie Willerby, whose home folks dramatize "Down Ozark Way;" Merle Travis and the Drifting Pioneers with Walhe and Willie Brown and Sleepy Marlin; Tex Owens, the original ranger of WLW's Jamboree; Hugh Cross and his Radio Pals with comic stuttering Shug Fisher; the Girls of the Golden West, Dollie and Mille Good, yodeling and singing sisters Tillie Q. Smith, and Happy Hal O'Halloran, nationally known master of ceremonies of rural road shows

Saturday night's performance will be featured by the Jamboree's regular Saturday night broadcast over a national hookup. The performance will be transmitted by telephone wires to WLW's station and then sent out over its broadcasting facilities.

The Hillbilly radio entertainers will perform rain or shine in both afternoon and evening. The Jamboree was an attraction at the fair and drew thousands last year. This year the performers will stage a new program with some of the popular old faces and new entertainers who have been added to the program

Treasurer

Albert W. Strater of Mansfield is treasurer of the fair board.

Tug-of-War to Be Feature of County Fai

Man-Pulling Contest Wins Popularity

Expected to draw one of the largest crowds of watchers at this year's county fair which opens a week from today is the second annual tug-of-war or man-pulling contest, with teams from the county's 18 townships competing.

Started last year, the man-pulling contest won such popularity that spirited competition exists for this year's event.

The contest is strictly between township teams. Each has organized its own team and they will compete in the preliminary events on Thursday, Aug. 1, second day of the fair, and in the finals on Friday, Aug. 2, the third day.

Lewis Rinehart, fair board director in charge of the tug-of-war, said that interest shown in this year's event has surpassed that of last year when township teams inaugurated the tug-of-war.

Nearly every township has entered teams in the event. They consist of 10 men each.

Prizes are $20 for the winning team, $15 for the team coming in second best, and $10 for the third place finisher.

Rinehart suggested that in view of the spirited competition, the winning teams might contribute their winnings to a township picnic or some other community-wide function.

Automobile parking space will be reserved on the fairground for competitors.

Commissioners Help In County Fairs

RAY HOUT

The board of county commissioners represents a "guiding hand" for Richland county fairs.

GUY STEWART

In lean years when rain or other setbacks cause a decline in gate receipts, commissioners co-operate with fair directors to keep their financial requirements on an even keel.

C. L. MITCHELL

HERE ARE COMMITTEES THAT ATTEND TO DETAILS OF FAIR

Here are the superintendents and committees which direct the activities and entertainment at the fair:

Grounds—R. D. Hale, C. C. Hout, W. W. Shafer, A. W. Strater, H. H. Wolf.

New Premium Competition Set for Schools

Rural Students To Compete For Prizes

Like always, special premium competition is set up for this year's county fair which opens a week from today.

The entry list and rules and regulations compiled by Boyd W. Robinson, county superintendent of schools, are as folows:

1. One half of the money appropriated shall be distributed equally among the schools that have a complete exhibit. Such exhibit shall cover at least two booths and consist of material prepared by pupils in school. A complete exhibit shall include material in at least twelve of the departments listed below:

Writing, Mathematics, English, Social Science, History, Literature, Geography, Civics, Physical Science, Biological Science, Health or Safety, Foreign Languages, Commercial, Agriculture, Manual Arts, Home Economics, Art, Music.

2. The following prizes shall be awarded on the basis of excellence of the exhibit: 1st prize, $30; 2nd prize, $25; 3rd prize, $20; Honorable mention, $15. (Not more than three Honorable Mentions shall be awarded.) Scoring shall be on the attractiveness of the display, range of exhibits, degree to which exhibits are in expression of pupil activity. Free hand drawing should be favored over copied drawing.

3. All schools under one executive head shall exhibit as a unit. Schools in districts without unified controll shall be awarded from three to five dollars per school exhibiting, basing award on basis of merit as outlined under No. 2.

4. The remaining money shall be divided on the basis of Special Projects. Projects shall be graded A and B on the basis, roughly, of amount of work represented by the project, uniqueness of idea, excellence of workmanship, educational value of project. The number graded A shall be multiplied by 2, to which the number of grade B shall be added, this total divided into the total money remaining to be distributed will determine amount each B project shall receive, each A project to receive twice this amount.

5. Only pupils of the Richland County Schools under supervision of County Superintendent are eligible to exhibit.

6. All work must be done by the pupils in connection with the regular school work and must be a part of such work, and the work exhibited must be done since last preceding Fair, and that the pupils belonged to the grade that the work represents.

7. All work displayed in these school exhibits must represent the work of the pupils who were in school at least 50% of the time school was in session unless absent from school on account of their own sickness.

8. No overhead decorations will be permitted. Exhibits will be mounted up to a uniform height in the booth.

9. Exhibits must be in place at noon on the first day of the Fair. Baked goods must be in not later than noon on the second day.

10. The awarding of premiums by the judges will begin the second day of the fair. Each exhibit should have one person in charge to assist judges in locating exhibit.

11. The judges may disqualify any exhibit not up to the standard or that violates any of the rules.

12. The County Fair Managers will take all necessary precautions that nothing will be lost or taken, but will not be responsible for losses.

13. This exhibit is subject to all the general and special rules of this fair.

14. The committee will make the proper distribution of all money.

Military Sham Battle on Week's Program

Guardsmen To Stage Show On One Night

Mansfield and Richland countians next week will have an opportunity to see just what its unit of the Ohio National Guard does in the way of getting prepared to defend our nation in the event of military invasion.

The guardsmen, 80 of them, their officers and their military equipment including several of the famous French 75's will put on a drill and sham battle at the county fair opening a week from today for a four-day run.

The sham battle will be staged as a part of the fair's grandstand program on Thursday night, Aug. 2.

Negotiations are being completed with state headquarters of the National guard to obtain blank cartridges and shells to be fired in the military battle maneuvers.

The guardsmen will be directed by Capt. R. J. Nichols. They will arrange a battle formation in front of the grandstand, shoot at dummy targets and will display the precision of a military unit which has won the Mansfield battery a high rating in Ohio.

Aerial bombs and rockets will help to present an atmosphere of a real military engagement on the night of the performance.

The American Legion Drum and Bugle corp will also have a part on this program, marching and providing military numbers with drums and trumpets as the sham battle progresses.

In 'Believe It or Not' Show

With the opening of the Richland county fair on a week from today, July 31, entertainment seekers will have the opportunity of seeing for the first time in this section of the United States the Believe It or Not show by Ripley. A total of 47 persons participate in 19 of some of the world's most unusual acts. The Ripley show is housed in a new $10,000, air conditioned tented amphitheater.

WOMEN, HERE'S A CHANCE TO WIN CASH WITH A LOUD YELL

A hog calling contest or husband calling contest for women is to be a fun feature of the county fair this year.

Fair board directors, in order to attract a big field of competitors, have set up attractive prizes for the three winners in this event.

All the women have to do is get upon a platform and either sound their call for hogs or yell in their loudest and most shrill voices the names of their men folk.

Winner of the event will get a $5 bill, the one judged second best will get $3 and third place holder will get $1.

This event is to be held on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 1, second day of the fair. Entries must report to the fair office on, adjacent to the grandstand, on the afternoon of the event and further instructions will be given then.

Rules Governing Exhibits By 4-H Club Members

Here are rules and regulations governing boys' and girls' 4-H club displays as announced by George B. Ganyard, Richland county extension agent, in charge of club exhibits.

1. All boys and girls who are regularly enrolled as members of boys' and girls' clubs in Richland county and who have complied with the rules of the State Club Department, governing the clubs, are eligible to exhibit.
2. No entry fee shall be charged.
3. Exhibits must be in place by 9 a. m. Wednesday, July 31.
4. No article or animal shall be removed before the close of the fair without the permission of the superintendent in charge. Any article removed will forfeit right to all prizes awarded.
5. All precaution shall be taken to prevent injury or theft of exhibits, but the management will not be responsible for loss or injury.
6. Entry in the boys' and girls' club classes shall not prevent the showing the product or animal in the open classes. In case a product or animal is shown in the open classes, regular requirements as to entry must be complied with by the exhibitor.

Girl Shot From Balloon In Air

Here is the big gas balloon which carries a cannon into the air and fires a girl into space from a height of 3,000 feet. The balloon-cannon ascension will take place on the last three afternoons of the fair which opens a week from today. Below are two of the "Flying Allens" troupe which stages the act.

COMBINES REPLACING BINDERS, THRESHING MACHINES ON FARMS

When new equipment comes along, people must learn to use it. That was true of the automobile (remember when it was a toss-up whether the average driver would press the brake pedal or the accelerator?) It is equally true of the new equipment which has brought about a virtual revolution in methods of harvesting.

To fully understand the change that is taking place, it is necessary to consider a few brief figures. In 1935—only five years ago—binders outsold combines by ten to one. Threshing machine sales were about even with combine sales. A majority of the combines were sold in one-crop wheat territory, rather than in areas of diversified farming.

In 1938, combine sales went ahead of binder sales for the first time. Last year—1939—combines led binders in sales by two to one and outsold threshers by eleven to one. In five years' time, the combine has replaced the binder as the accepted harvesting tool. This change has been particularly noticeable in diversified territory because the All-Crop Harvester, which brought it about, handles seed and bean crops equally as well as small grain. Many of these machines are going into the hands of men who have never operated threshing equipment.

Like any other new piece of equipment, a man must learn to use his combine properly for best results. Seed dealers and elevator men often comment that one man may bring in combined seed or grain of poor quality while his neighbor with the same kind of equipment delivers a crop that commands a premium. Sometimes these situations are brought about by unusual weather or crop conditions, but usually they can be traced to lack of knowledge on the part of the operator, or failure to observe a few simple principles.

To help eliminate incidents of this kind, the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company has inaugurated an educational program which will stress the importance of producing dry seed and lay down certain basic rules for owners and operators of All-Crop Harvesters. The program will also help to acquaint dealers and their service men with the needs and problems of the seed trade.

Wooster Family Loses In New York Deportation Suit

COURT RULES ON CHIRILLO RELIEF CASE

Both Sides Agree to Carry Dispute to Country's Highest Tribunal.

(By United Press)

ALBANY, N. Y.—The court of appeals today upheld a county court order "deporting" Rosario Chirillo, 62-year-old Mamaroneck, N. Y., cobbler, to Wooster, O., because he went on relief rolls less than a year after he moved to New York state.

The court decision was four to three, with Associate Judges Edward R. Finch, Harlan Rippey and Edmund Lewis dissenting from the prevailing opinion which dismissed Chirillo's appeal. Both sides, however, have agreed to take the case to the U. S. supreme court.

Three opinions were written but none was available immediately.

Associate Judge John Loughran wrote the prevailing opinion with which Chief Judge Irving Lehman, Associate Judge Charles Sears and Albert Conway concurred. Lehman, Loughran and Sears also concurred in the result in a second opinion. The dissenters wrote the third opinion.

Chirillo, his wife and children, moved to Mamaroneck more than a year ago. They had obtained relief in Wooster, where they owned property. Chirillo said they wanted to be near a married daughter who had moved to New York.

Chirillo started a shoe repairing shop. Business was poor so he asked relief officials if they had any shoes he could repair. The officials investigated and certified his need for help. Checks subsequently were sent to him.

Investigators learned, however, that he had not "gained settlement" by residing a year without obtaining relief. Under New York law he was liable to be sent back to Ohio,where he had not lost his residence rights, since he had been away less than a year.

Moreover, Ohio officials said they would provide relief if the family moved back.

But the Chirillos contended their constitutional rights to live where they pleased were being violated.

Presentation of the constitutional question brought in the state social welfare department and Attorney General John J. Bennett, who supported the Westchester county welfare department in the legal fight to move the Chirillos back to Ohio.

Compensation Insurance Rates Reduced

EMPLOYERS IN STATE DUE TO SAVE $1,500,000

New Schedules Show Reduction In Premiums In 205 Of 389 Classifications.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Reduction of workmen's compensation insurance rates an average of 9.4 per cent with an anticipated saving to Ohio employers of more than $1,500,000 during the next 2 months was announced today by the state industrial commission.

A financial statement of the commission disclosed that $2,054,002 was added to the Ohio state insurance fund surplus in 1939, making a total surplus of $3,812,861 at the start of 1940.

Premium collections last year amounted to $16,214,045, of which 86.4 per cent was allocated to meet losses. Investment earnings totaled $1,929,504.

E. I. Evans, commission actuary, attributed the new rate reductions to "compliance enforcement activity to bring into the fund those employers who have failed to carry insurance."

The new rate schedules lower premiums in 205 of the 389 workers' classifications covered, increase rates in 18 others, and leave 166 unchanged. Wiper describes the reductions as "the largest in more than a decade." They are effective on contracts and renewals after last July 1.

Other building work reductions for each $100 of payroll included: Carpentry, from $3 to $2.50; plumbing and steamfitting from $3 to $2; painting, from $5 to $4.50; electrical installation, from $2.40 to $2, structural steel fabrication, from $2.50 to $2; structural steel erection, from $20 to $18.

Rate changes in other major employment classifications included farming, $4.50 to $4; packing houses, $2 to $1.60; clothing manufacturing, 30 cents to 25 cents; laundries, $1.00 to 90 cents; planing mills, $2 to $1.80; furniture manufacturing, $1.50 to $1.30; sheet metal goods, $1.30 to $1.10; iron foundries, $2 to $1.80; stove manufacturing, $1.20 to $1.

Auto manufacturing, $1 to 90 cents; tire manufacturing, 80 cents to 70 cents; highway construction, $7 to $5.50; trucking, $4 to $3; auto sales and garages, $1.20 to $1; electric power companies, $1.80 to $1.60; lumber yards, $1.20 to $1.10; coal dealers, $2 to $1.70; traveling salesmen, 40 cents to 30 cents; office employes, five cents to four cents; hotels, 80 cents to 70 cents; restaurants, $1.10 to $1.

OUSTS FIREMAN

Ashland Driver Loses Job Under Mayor's Order.

ASHLAND—Mayor Howard S. Lutz today announced the suspension from the Ashland fire department of Harry B. Ewing, charged with being intoxicated while on duty.

Ewing's suspension became effective yesterday Mayor Lutz said.

The mayor said he would request the Civil Service commission to submit a list of persons eligible for appointment to the position.

Ewing was a truck driver.

FOUND WITH WRIST SLASHED

Loudonville Woman Brought to Mansfield Hospital.

Hospital attaches today reported as fair the condition of Mrs. Fred Stitzline, 68, of Loudonville, brought to General hospital shortly before noon today suffering from wrist lacerations reportedly self-inflicted.

Mrs. Stitzline had been visiting at the home of a brother, George Long, north of Loudonville, and was found by a nephew, Kenneth Long, 20, after she had been missing from the house for about 20 minutes.

Up and Down THE STREET

Of all the birthday remembrances Mrs. Irene Hines, 169 Sturges avenue, received in honor of her 83rd birthday yesterday, the one that pleased her most was a singing telegram, because such a greeting was a new experience for her. She received it from her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hines, 41 Glenwood boulevard, who are vacationing in New York City.

To say that Harry Schlegel, city engineer, was surprised the other day when he picked up a copy of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and found a picture of himself in a baseball uniform, taken 27 years ago, is putting it mildly. The photo was that of the Huntington, W. Va., baseball club, on which Schlegel played third base in 1913 in the Ohio State league. Most of the players are known to older Mansfield baseball fans because the same team represented Mansfield in the same league in 1912. Two of the others are Lee Tohl, who later managed the Cleveland Indians, and John Dailey, who played shortstop and still lives here.

Rev. Grover E. Swoyer of the First Lutheran church likes his golf game and he does all right—when his wife isn't watching him. Rev. Swoyer had his wife drive him out to Possum Run recently and she decided to stay and watch him play several holes. He started out on the par 3 No. 10 hole with a five and scored a six on the No. 11, another par three hole. His wife left at this point and Swoyer began hitting his stride. On No 12, par five, a drive and spoon shot placed him within three feet of the cup and he sank the putt for an "eagle" three. He finished the round with a 41, which is only five over par.

If you have occasion to walk into the sheriff's office within the next few days don't be surprised if you find Sheriff E. P. Long looking over a catalogue containing illustrations of ten gallon hats, and cowboy boots. One of the sheriff's deputies, Glen Freeman, was called out this morning to clear a highway west of the city of a number of hogs which had broken loose. And the sheriff figures that while his department is pretty well equipped, his men are going to need some special trappings if there are many more "round-ups" in the county.

DRAFT PLANS

N. Y. A. Airport Project to Go Before City Council.

Legislation on the NYA project at Mansfield airport is being prepared for presentation to city council, following a meeting yesterday afternoon at city building of city officials, and representatives of NYA, state highway department and the National Aeronautics Association.

The project calls for the expenditure of about $40,000, with the city paying less than $500 of it. The Aeronautics Association will provide material for a building combining administration offices and a restaurant and a two-way radio system. The labor will be done by NYA.

NYA labor also includes resodding the runways and repairing drainage tile. The state highway department would establish a large roadside park at the airport.

The entire project will cost the city very little Mayor W. J. Locke said, and will add considerably to the value and progress of the airport. The necessary legislation for the project will come before city council at its Aug. 6 meeting.

RITES SET FOR MRS. GARBER, 61

Funeral for Bellville Woman to Be Held Thursday.

BELLVILLE—Funeral services for Mrs. Bessie Garber, 61, who died at her home Tuesday morning, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the residence. Rev. Joseph O. Morrow will officiate and burial will be in Bellville cemetery.

Mrs. Garber is survived by her husband, William; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Goss and Mrs. Beatrice Fuller, Bellville; three sons, Bryan Dwain and Robert, near Bellville; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Cutshaw and Mrs. Bertha Garber, of Butler, and a brother, Earl Byran of Bellville.

JUNE EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

8 Per Cent Boost Over May Reported Through War Sales to Allies.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Increased shipments of war materials to the United Kingdom, and of airplanes to France during the first half of the month, increased June American merchandise exports eight per cent over May to a value of $344,000,000, Secretary of Commerce Hopkins said the preliminary figures revealed today.

Exports to Canada and to South America were the highest for any month of the European war period and "more than offset the severe curtailment of shipments to the Mediterranean area," he said.

United Kingdom purchases totaled nearly $77,000,000, including explosives, firearms and ammunition valued at $23,000,000. France's purchases totaled more than $45,000,000 but it is not certain here that all the shipments reached French ports before the French armistice and the British blockade.

Western hemisphere shipments increased about seven per cent in June, Canada buying goods worth $64,000,000 and Latin America $71,000,000, an eight and six per cent increase, respectively, over the preceding month.

"Agricultural exports declined further, partly owing to seasonal influences," Hopkins said.

MAP PLANS FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

Volunteers of America to Stage Outing Aug. 10 at Park.

Officials of the Volunteers of America are mapping plans for an annual picnic for children of Mansfield families who are on relief.

The outing will be held at North Lake park on Aug. 10 and is expected to be attended by several hundred children. A program of games and contests is being planned.

Rev. and Mrs. R. T. White, superintendents, are general chairmen of the affair. Others assisting are G. F. Carter, menu, Lieut. Wilbur Crum, transportation, and Lieut. George Banner.

BABY BOY DIES

Shelby Child Had Been Ill at Home With Diphtheria.

SHELBY—Eugene Franklin Roberts, 2½ years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roberts, 7 Jennings court, died this morning at the home. He had been ill with diphtheria.

A native of Shelby, Eugene is survived by four brothers, John, Buddy, Paul and James; six sisters, Betty, Irene, Esther, Jane, Joanne and Nancy, all at home; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Roberts of Shelby, and Mrs. and Mrs. Billman of Antwerp, O., also his parents.

The body was removed to the Rackhall funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

200 BARBERS EXPECTED HERE FOR ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION

Mansfield will be host Sunday and Monday to more than 200 barbers from all parts of the state who will convene here for the 15th annual convention of the Associated Master Barbers of Ohio.

The two-day session will open at 1 p. m. Sunday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel under the direction of Harry A. Heyrock, Marietta, president of the organization.

Highlight of the convention will be a dinner dance in the hotel ballroom at 6 p. m. Sunday.

Mayor William J. Locke is scheduled to give the address of welcome and Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will give the invocation.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Louis E. McIlvain, Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the Associated Master Barbers of America.

Other speakers will be Heyrock, Frank Blazina, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer of the state association; George McKenna, Springfield, vice president of the Journeymen Barbers International union of America, C. L. Van Derau, president of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce and John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the chamber.

Music for dancing will be by Guy Ellis and his orchestra.

Monday morning delegates and guests will be taken on a trip through the Ohio State reformatory and the Westinghouse plant.

The meetings will be concluded Monday afternoon with election of officers.

The Mansfield Barbers association comprising the committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Peter Geisel, president and K. D. McClure, secretary-treasurer.

The entertainment committee is headed by McClure, assisted by Joseph D. Mathys, Fred W. Hein, H. P. Snyder and Robert Taylor.

TO ASSUME POST

Duke and Duchess of Windsor Not to Enter U. S.

LONDON—(INS)—The duke and duchess of Windsor will not enter the United States when they go from Lisbon, Portugal, to Nassau, Bahama islands, where the duke will assume his duties as governor, it was stated reliably today.

Informed quarters said the former British monarch and his American-born wife probably will fly from Lisbon to Bermuda aboard a British overseas airways plane at a date not yet fixed.

From Bermuda, it was stated, they may travel to Nassau aboard a British warship.

SUICIDE VERDICT

MT. VERNON—(AP)—The body of Mrs. H. C. Black, 72, wife of a former Mansfield reformatory guard, was found hanging in her home here yesterday. Coroner C. L. Harmer recorded her death as a suicide.

DIES AT HOME AT AGE OF 65

Mathias Blesius Succumbs; Rites To Be Held Friday.

Mathias Blesius, 65, died Tuesday at the Thull rest home, 189 Hedges street after a brief illness. Born in Germany April 10, 1875, Mr. Blesius came to this country 50 years ago. He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday at St. Peter's Catholic church in charge of Msgr. R. C. Goebel. Burial will be in Mansfield Catholic cemetery. The body will remain at the Thull home until time of services.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—A column of names and a column of figures.

Big names, big figures. Colossal figures. The annual federal report of incomes—for 1938, this time.

Louis B. Mayer made more than $600,000 and topped everybody else in the country. Claudette Colbert made more than $400,000 and surpassed every other woman.

Shirley Temple still was making more than the president.

It got talked about in Hollywood, too, just as it did over your own dinner table if you had a dinner table, and if you didn't I'll bet it got talked 'bout plenty.

In Hollywood you heard comments like these.

"Well, if that guy is worth $600,000 I'm cock-eyed—and I am cockeyed. Hey, waiter!"

"I don't begrudge Mayer's take. After all, he's the boy who keeps the plant going and did the organizing and does the main worrying."

"They oughtta publish how much the movie people pay in taxes as long as they're publishing what they make—and let the public know what they put out in charity, in helping relatives, in spreading employment."

"And what they put out for race horses, too, eh?"

"Well, even race horses spread employment."

"It's the big money stars that get me. They're lucky they just happen to be the way they are, and because they're that way and are given the benefit of the best writers, the best directors, the best cameramen, and the work of a thousand people behind them they're rolling in dough—and think they did it." (This from a star-hater, or did you guess?)

"Well, they got big dough—but it doesn't last. They're washed up in a few years, and the government takes most of it as it comes in. They can have it. I'll take my desk."

"Whaddyamean, stars don't work? Colbert puts in a day's work that would feaze a dime-store girl and make a truck-horse turn pale when she works."

"Claudette says herself it won't be that way next time. She hasn't worked enough."

Well, Hollywood has talked about it, pro and con. There are a lot of pros and a lot of cons. And the general feeling is that the golden days are going, going, gone. The foreign market is shot—perhaps permanently. There'll have to be some changes. Maybe one will eliminate producers as Ben Hecht (hopefully) suggests. Maybe the day of the high-priced star is over. She'll take what she can get or they won't take her. They'll use a newer favorite who won't cost so much if they can make the newer one a favorite.

Maybe (and this is what Walter Wanger foresees) there'll just be fewer pictures, better prepared, no more double features and a Hollywood that's paid on a flat percentage basis. That way a producer, a star, a writer would get approximately his true worth at the box-office.

But if you think that's peanuts you've only to remember Mae West—who turned down percentage deal on "She Done Him Wrong" and lived to regret it.

Heavy Docket Faces Grand Jury Meeting Next Week

27 CRIMINAL CASES TO BE INVESTIGATED

Prosecutor's Office Gets Ready to Start Probe of Murder Case.

Anticipating a three-day record session of the grand jury beginning at 9 a. m. next Tuesday, Prosecuting Attorney G. W. Marriott today prepared evidence to be presented in 27 criminal cases.

Heading the list, which contains a charge of forgery and three of breaking and entering, is the case of Albert Davis, colored, of Mansfield, charged with the first degree murder of Lena Morton here June 18.

To be brought before the grand jury on breaking and entering charges are: Washington Carter, now in the state reformatory for violation of probation and accused of robbing the Miller Brothers cafe, 151 Orange street, February 5; Jesse L. Baith, bound over on a charge of taking $19.80 from the Crescent cafe, 22 South Park street, April 10; and Robert Hanlon, charged with taking $30 from the G. M. Weirick filling station, U. S. 42 North, June 4.

Jointly charged with forgery are Dick Eby and Virginia Pahl who in the affidavits prepared today are accused of presenting a false check at a downtown hotel April 29.

Non-support charges were prepared against Clifford Nixon, Maynard Stover, Fred De Weese, and John Browne.

Charles and Clarence Ruckman were charged with receiving stolen property in connection with the sale of stolen poultry at a Mansfield produce store, May 25.

Carrying concealed weapons is the charge against Howard G. French, reported in the affidavit to have been carrying a knife on city streets June 15.

J. M. Garaigon, picked up recently in Dayton by Detectives Remy and Krupp on the accusation that he passed a bad check at a local grocery June 8 is charged with issuing a check without funds.

The prosecutor's office reported that charges of obtaining property under false pretenses were on file against Jerry Will for reportedly obtaining $200 worth of fireworks, June 28, from D. C. Donley, Mansfield, on the pretext that he operated fireworks stands elsewhere in the state.

Alford Firestone is charged with operating a vehicle without the owner's consent. Clinton Gipe was bound to the grand jury Monday on charge of larceny in connection with the reported theft of a purse containing $41.50 and belonging to Mrs. Jessie Elrod, 302 High street.

James Foster is held on a statutory charge.

EIGHT FACING COURT HEARINGS

Judge Away From City, Heavy Docket to Greet Him Tomorrow Morning.

Eight cases slated for hearing in municipal court this morning were carried over until 9 a. m. Thursday because of the absence of Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Three of them were traffic cases, four were for intoxication and one is a charge of disorderly conduct.

Jasper Jackson was arrested by state highway patrolmen on Route 42 last night for operating a car with insufficient lights. Virgil Moffett, Ashland, was cited for court appearance by Patrolman Clare Kyler this morning on Lexington avenue.

He was charged with operating a car at 65 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone on Lexington avenue. William T. Krowarz, Cleveland, charged with unsafe operation by highway patrol officers, was arrested last Saturday and his case set for today. It will be heard tomorrow.

Benjamin Mathison, is charged with drunk and disorderly conduct as the result of his getting abusive while begging, according to an affidavit signed by Tom Santore. Four others were arrested last night on intoxication charges.

Aside from scratches and bruises, the child was unhurt.

MANSFIELDERS TO JOIN OHIO PLANE CARAVAN

Seven From City Included In 100 Aircraft Forming All-Ohio Air Tour.

Names of seven Mansfielders who will take part in the annual all-Ohio air tour, which will visit the Mansfield airport Sunday at 3:50 p. m. were announced today by Robert Miller, secretary of the Junior Association of Commerce, local sponsors of the flight.

The Mansfielders will join the party of 100 planes at Cleveland Friday and make a three-day tour of 11 Ohio cities.

They are Ralph Shelton and Paul Gimbel, and Norman Conn and a passenger, traveling in Luscomb planes, Dr. L. D. Bonar and Tom Jones in a Rearuin Ranger, and Charles Silsby and William Kick making the trip in an Aeronca.

Winner in the "Miss Mansfield" contest being staged by the J. A. C. in conjunction with the air tour will be announced tomorrow. Judging by a committee from the association will be based on photographs submitted to J. A. C. headquarters and the winner will go to New Philadelphia Saturday, for the air tour ball at which Miss Air-Tour for all Ohio will be chosen.

Definitely scheduled as part of the program to welcome the flotilla of planes at the airport Sunday is a concert by the high school band, Miller revealed today.

Local public and aviation officials will also be on the program.

was sentenced in federal court in Cleveland last Sept. 12, after he pleaded guilty to having counterfeit money in his possession.

Under the name of Puzzo, he was arrested in March 1933, at the Majestic theater on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Police had gone to arrest him in connection with the theft of an auto, but when they searched him, found the weapon and placed that charge against him instead.

He spent some time in county jail and on May 26, 1933, Judge C. H. Huston paroled him to Sheriff Walter Underwood, with a penitentiary sentence of one to three years over him.

He was still on parole when he was arrested as a suspect in the bombing of The News-Journal on Nov. 12, 1933, and was questioned by police as to the possession of a bomb similar to the one which had wrecked The News-Journal mail room.

He was released after hours of questioning during which time he maintained he had been in Marion at the time of the bomb explosion, but on the 29th of the same month was again arrested for operating a still.

Brought before Judge Huston he admitted he had operated the still for two months while on parole. He was sentenced to one to three years as a parole violator and taken to Ohio penitentiary. At that time, James Will then prosecutor, said Puzzo had been arrested in Marion in 1931 by federal authorities under the name of Joe Ryan and had served 28 days of a 45-day sentence in the workhours for possession of liquor.

When Judge Huston sentenced Puzzo, he said: "Stay out of Mansfield. Don't come back here after you get out of prison."

Brizzi, or Puzzo, came to the United States in 1921 from Italy.

5 APPOINTED

Employees Named For Liquor Store On North Main.

Five Richland county men today were listed among 138 men named to state liquor positions by State Liquor Director Jacob B. Taylor, according to Associated Press dispatches.

The men are Raymond G. Melpomough, Joseph D. Johnson, Wilbur F. Jolley, Thomas Sposito, and Harold E. Stanley.

All are to be clerks at the North Main street liquor store it was announced. Former employes there were retained under provisional appointments.

The liquor director also made replacement appointments in Athens, Clinton, Allen and Trumbull counties.

TRUSTEE PLAN GIVEN THREAT

Argentina Blocks U. S. Means Of Banning Dictators From New World.

tion and effective means to combat subversive activities.

Principal points in the "collective trusteeship" plan include:

In view of the possibility of a change in status of European possessions in the Americas, the American republics reaffirm the necessity of not recognizing any conquests by force in this hemisphere, and transferance or attempt to transfer such possessions directly or indirectly will not be recognized.

The American republics reserve the right to judge if any change in the political status of European possessors as of Sept. 1, 1939, affects the independence and liberty of action of the possessions in the western hemisphere.

If it becomes necessary to proceed against territory which is European property at the date mentioned to protect this announced policy, it will not mean that the American powers are seeking territorial expansion.

The territory affected will be returned to the original owners so long as the attempt to do so does not affect American security, or it will be declared independent if it is capable of self-government.

If necessary to impose control over any territory, a body will be appointed for the purpose and it will be composed of members of each American nation adhering to the plan. This commission would be authorized to request military and naval aid for adequate protection of the territory affected.

The plan would go into effect when a determined number of countries has signified a desire to participate.

Upon approval of the plan a committee would be formed consisting of representatives of the United States, Cuba, Colombia, Venezuela and Brazil to handle all details relating to the proposal until it is ratified.

Pending ratification this committee would be authorized to consider any situation arising and decide on behalf of the American republics to take any action which might be necessary to impede contraventions of the principles and rules established by the Havana conference.

4 INMATES FLEE O. S. R. FARM, ONE APPREHENDED AT NEWARK

One of four inmates of the Ohio State reformatory who fled from an institution farm field where they were threshing wheat yesterday was back in police custody today following his arrest last night in the railroad yards at Newark.

A second fugitive is believed to be hiding near Newark, a United Press dispatch said today.

The inmates, all trusties, walked away from the field late in the afternoon, according to Superintendent Arthur L. Glattke.

Milford Perry, 19, Cincinnati, who came to the institution Oct. 25, 1939 on a 1-to-15 year sentence for burglary, was apprehended and was being held today by Newark authorities. Glattke said he would be brought back today. A companion, Christie Margritis, 20, who entered the prison Sept. 28, 1939, also from Hamilton county, on a one-to-15 year sentence for burglary and larceny, was being sought. He eluded Newark police once but is believed to be in the vicinity.

The other two who escaped were Wilbert Dowling, 20, and Paul Kaffman, 19. Dowling is from Cuyahoga county, convicted of housebreaking Dec. 1, last year and serving a one-to-15 year sentence; and Kaffman was sent up from Franklin county Jan. 8, also on a one-to-15 year term, for burglary and larceny.

The four trusties were working in a threshing party on the institution farm, near a woods. They are believed to have hopped a freight train.

A posse was sent out to search for them, but efforts were hampered by the thunderstorms shortly after 5 p. m.

NEWARK —(AP)— Authorities today investigated the death of Mrs. Tillie Zahner, about 52, whose body was discovered in a Newark junkyard.

HEAT WAVE TO BREAK, RAINS DUE TOMORROW

Thunderstorms Thursday to Be Followed by More Rain, Cooler Weather Friday.

ed a high of 91 yesterday and Carl Gorsuch, 53, Cleveland, and William N. Rousey, 35, Covington, Ky., a stable attendant at the Thistle Down race track, died. Five others were prostrated.

Four infants succumbed to the heat yesterday. They were Joseph Hartlaug, two months, and Edna Mae Frazer, nine months, both of Cincinnati; Edward Kroeger, three months, of Columbus, and Joanne Patchen, nine months of Akron.

Lightning killed Mrs. Emmy Mueckel, 59-year-old widow, in a wheat field on her farm near Defiance. Her death brought to 28 the number attributed directly and indirectly to the five-day hot spell.

The state found little relief in the scattered showers which pattered for a short time in many communities. There was an average of .26 inches of rain for Ohio and .43 inches for Mansfield. The biggest share fell at Napoleon where a fall of 1.52 inches was recorded. About one-half inch fell at Cambridge, Circleville and Jackson.

There were lesser amounts at Norwalk, Ashland, Lima, Cincinnati and traces at Dayton, Wilmington and Columbus.

The highest official temperature in Ohio reported yesterday was 96 at Cincinnati, but it was 95 at Cambridge and Circleville. Other "highs" included: Canton 89, Dayton 92, Jackson 89, Marion 93, Norwalk 90, Ashland 87, Lima 90, Napoleon 93, Sidney 92, Wilmington 93, Columbus 93, Cleveland 91.

Damage to the Ohio wheat crop by the heat is believed to be negligible because most of it has been harvested.

More than 200 deaths, including those by drowning as hundreds of thousands flocked to beaches, have been attributed to the heat wave. In the midwest, serious damage to the corn crop is feared unless the heat is broken by rain soon.

There was every indication that temperatures such as were recorded yesterday would be the rule again today. The mercury boiled above 100 in many sections yesterday, including such highs as 101 at Madison, Wis., 104 at North Platte, Neb., 108 at Huron, S. C., 103 at Fresno, Calif., and 109, at Phoenix, Ariz.

East Still Suffers.

Along the eastern seaboard temperatures were somewhat lower, but the humidity continued oppressive. Showers brought relief to Washington, D. C., last night, but "continued heat" was the prediction for today.

The Pacific coast reported its weather "normal, generally fair and mild."

Denver broiled yesterday as the mercury mounted to 96, and prepared for another "scorcher" today.

In the Kansas City area the weather was reported "hot, but normal for the season," with 100-degree temperature readings forecast for today.

Through the middlewest the sustained heat wave threatened serious damage to the corn crop, and farmers were faced with the problem of feeding their livestock, as pasturage withered and turned brown under the fiery sun.

In South Dakota, a mass of cool air brought relief to baking human, animal and plant life. Pierre, So. Dak., was the hot spot of the nation yesterday, with a temperature reading of 115 degrees.

FATHER DIES

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Fifteen children were left fatherless by the death yesterday of James C. McAllister, 50, a building contractor. His widow also survives.

above the eye and on his back. Robert Rossman, 13, received head lacerations. All were treated by a Lexington physician. Butler, and Beverly Rossman, 9, and Doris Rossman, 6, escaped injuries.

Linton told officers he must have fallen asleep while driving, and when he awoke, he saw he was in the path of the oncoming car. Both drivers swerved their cars in an effort to avoid a head-on collision, officers said.

A short time after the accident, Butler's car burst into flames and burned on the highway. Patrolmen said the fire is believed to have been caused by a spark igniting oil, gasoline and grease on the highway. Butler was en route to Franklin, Pa.

Arthur Cooper, 25, of Chicago, suffered minor body injuries at 5:20 a. m. today, when a car in which he was riding and driven by Paul Fleury, 23, of East Aurora, N. Y., struck a guard rail and turned over on route 30, three miles east of Jeromesville. Patrolmen said Fleury failed to negotiate a turn in the road.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1940

National defense should extend at least as far as politicians can stick their necks out.

In the midst of the heat wave it is interesting to note that Duluth is having its customary July thaw.

With a former Democrat heading the Republican ticket and a one-time Republican chosen by New Deal Democrats as vice presidential candidate, the non-partisan voter should be in his element this year.

Democracy Requires Self-Reliance

TODAY this country stands devoted to the proposition that here, if nowhere else in the world, democracy shall be preserved and made secure.

And people are coming to realize that the preservation of democracy means that we must again analyze the meaning of democracy—and return to those principles on which the nation was founded.

Those principles are simple and basic. Certain powers were given to government—the power over currency, over national defense, over foreign policy, and so on. The balance of powers were reserved to the people. The founders realized that government is a non-producer—that all production and creation must come from the individual. And they realized that strict limitation of the activities of government was necessary if freedom was to live.

In recent years we have been drifting away from true democratic government. We have put government into business. We have all but destroyed the rights of states. We have gone a long way toward the ruinous theory that government owes everyone a living. We have destroyed local independence, local pride, local self-sufficiency.

This has cost tens of billions in taxes and increased federal debt. Yet, serious as that problem is, it is the least important phase of the trend. Vitally important has been the change for the worse in the American character—the loss of those traditional characteristics of independence and self-reliance.

If democracy is to live, the democratic virtues of self-reliance and independence must come back into their own. Government must again be confined to those duties given it by the Constitution. Industry and individuals must realize again that they can no longer expect manna from Washington for sustenance. Then democracy will survive and America will again become strong and secure.

Court Frowns On Tipsy Driving

ANNOUNCEMENT by Judge Kalbfleisch, of Mansfield municipal court, that more severe penalties are to hereafter be imposed on motorists who are arrested on traffic violation charges and who show indications of being even slightly under the influence of intoxicants, is another gratifying evidence of co-operation in what should be a sustained effort to improve traffic conditions in Mansfield and vicinity.

However tolerant of intoxicants the public may have become, there is practical unanimity of opinion that operation of a powerful motor vehicle cannot be safely entrusted to a person whose mind is even slightly muddled by alcohol, although he or she may not be "drunk," in the commonly accepted meaning of that word.

Under the present liquor licensing system in Ohio, with unsupervised dispensaries scattered throughout cities and rural districts, the practice of "driving after drinking" has become so prevalent as to account for a high percentage of all the night accidents that occur on the highways.

Whether there can be any material improvement in existing conditions until the liquor dispensing business has been restored to at least the decency of old-time saloons is problematical, but more drastic action must surely be taken soon to permanently remove drunken drivers from the highways.

Stern action along this line by the city police department, the sheriff's office and the state highway patrol, with assurance of severe penalties for offenders—including revocation of driver's license—will have value in making at least some motorists decide, WHILE SOBER, that they will not drive after drinking.

Time To Act In Bridges Case

ARIZONA'S Senator Ashurst, Democrat, merits commendation for his insistence that the senate give speedy approval to the bill already passed by the house, ordering deportation of Harry Bridges, west coast alien agitator whose Communistic activities and un-American proclivities have been strongly in evidence for a number of years.

The Madame Perkins administration of the department of labor has been so obviously tolerant of fellows of the Bridges ilk, and protective of their rights, that it has gone so far backward in assuring individual "rights" that Bridges has been permitted to pursue his subversive course with little, if any, restraint.

As was said by Senator Ashurst, however, "All too long the American people have been deceived by this evil man. The enemy has been striking at us from within and is even more dangerous than if he were striking from without."

The time has arrived for the United States of America to make it clear that [illegible] alien agitators that the [illegible] to those of foreign [illegible] of this [illegible] overthrow.

"THE SUN NEVER SETS ON THE BRITISH EMPIRE"

Carter Glass, Sturdy Old Fighter

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

VETERANS of the last two national conventions generally agree that Senator Carter Glass' speech putting James A. Farley's name before the Democratic gathering in Chicago was the most spectacular performance of either of the pair of big party assemblages.

Senator Glass

It wasn't the speech in itself that made the convention goers sit up and take so much notice. On the contrary, the senator was so hoarse and husky that not much of the crowd in the huge auditorium could hear him. Nor did he say anything that plenty of others haven't said and are continuing to say. He denounced third termism very forcibly, to be sure, but all the Republicans are doing that, and so are the anti-New Deal Democrats.

The old solon's personality was what attracted attention.

A large majority of it wasn't favorable attention, either. The New Dealers tried to boo the venerable Virginian down. He got some applause, too, but his audience plainly was preponderantly hostile to him.

That was just the point. He knew he was going to face hostility and he had the nerve to defy it.

He's a remarkable defy-er. He isn't much more than five feet tall. Convention Chairman Barkley introduced him as the "youngest man in the senate," whereas, at 80-odd, he's the oldest. He was sick also.

But he was as ferocious as if he were in his 20's, as healthy as a wildcat and the size of Big Jim Farley. When the booing and a temporary fuzzling of the mike drowned him out he simply stuck out his jaw and waited—then went on with his panning third termism. Pugnacity is written all over his visage, anyway—normally.

Handle With Care.

Senator Glass can be and is exceedingly nice if he isn't ruffled.

I've interviewed him lots of times. I always found him loaded for bear until I'd satisfied him that my intentions were good. Then he'd be as friendly and informative as possible.

He was the author of the law which created the federal reserve system. He loves that system as a mother loves an angel child. Hint at anything in derogation to it in his presence and you're due for trouble.

Senate's Youngest Member.

In a way, Democratic Convention Chairman Barkley was right in describing the old Virginian as the "youngest man in the senate."

He'd be hard to tie for pep and belligerency.

Barkley, to be sure, wasn't in sympathy with the speech Glass made. He'd been a "third termite" all along. However, he had to recognize his senate colleague's virility.

Glass, of course isn't the lone survivor of the original old time Democrats, dating back to Thomas Jefferson. There are a few others on Capitol Hill and doubtless elsewhere throughout the country.

But Glass certainly is their patriarch.

Life insurance expectancy is against the theory that he'll be present at another Democratic national convention, but he surely did get his fair share of the limelight at this last one.

A Letter to the Youth Congress.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

Dear A. Y. C.'s:

Greetings and let's get down to brass tacks.

Before starting, you can take off the shin guards and nose masks. I'm not going into this Communist charge. Though, just between us, if you aren't working for Mister Stalin you're certainly taking a wacky way to prove it. And are the first bunch of red-blooded kids I ever met who weren't willing to climb off the fence and tell with which side they're playing ball.

However, it's not my business to investigate your political leanings. Nor am I going to raise the usual Oldster rumpus against your Youth . . . or dispute your right to debate the policies of a nation which you will soon be running.

To the contrary, I honor and delight in your Youth and, I hope, have proved it. I honestly believe that your initiative and enthusiasm are the hope of the world . . . and that this human race would be on the pink pile promptly, if it were not for the unsung platoon rings of the Younger Generation.

In short, I'm a million strong for You Kids. You're a great gang with a grand purpose. But in one respect you are certainly asking for a shellacking, and I hope you get it. And that's because your policies are dangerous as a two ton bomb in a [illegible] kindergarten.

Your manners are so rotten that you are making a spectacle of yourselves . . . insulting those who were your warmest backers and giving your enemies a chance to cackle "I told you so!"

[illegible] walked into Washington [illegible] was no mistake. We read [illegible] and charged transportation [illegible] You were assured [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Democratic [illegible] not hearse. But we who [illegible] in you and banked on you for help in these difficult times—were sure that you would show these carpers up.

You weren't, we felt, the uncontrolled babes they accused you of being. You might be poor and, in many cases, uneducated. But you knew the answers. You were far older, wiser, better balanced than they suspected. And you'd put them to shame by proving it.

So did you not prove it?

You did not:

You marched into Washington . . . you assembled in your recent conclave . . . and on both occasions you made blatant boobies of yourselves.

To you had been given the greatest opportunity Youth has ever enjoyed. You were the picked representatives of your generation. You had good ideas to present. And you double-crossed them all yourselves your generation, your program and politics, and those who believed in you by acting like raucous rowdies. Half-baked hicks and poodlums. Obviously some of you are highly pleased by this fact and loudly imagine you're the nation's darlings. Big Nose. Don't kid yourselves! You're merely its laughing stock!

There are fine young people among you—young people who must be deeply dismayed and humiliated by this fact. If they are, let them speak up and vindicate their own dignity. As for the rest of you, go home and play checkers! The knockers were right. They had your number.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Sue had caught her breath. Now she looked quickly up at Bob King, the man she loved and who once had proposed to her. And for the first time in her life Sue McKee felt a quick, unreasonable surge of jealousy!

Somehow in this emergency her soul seemed suddenly to be laid bare. All the days she had spent befriending Rosemary raced through her mind; all the hours she had spent reminding herself to be loyal to the other girl and the man both of them wanted. And in this instant Sue's self-control almost cracked.

She burst into tears and blurted out her feelings in a surge of sobs and words. She tried to say that all Bob could think of was Rosemary! Tried to accuse him of unfairness, of heart-blindness and cruelty; tried in the same moment to proclaim that she herself loved Bob so desperately that she was almost crazed.

Fortunately, her very sobbing saved her from the ultimate misery of embarrassment and regret. The sobbing plus the fact that both Monty and Bob were trying at the same time to comfort her, talking and soothing her as best they could, caused her words simply to be unintelligible.

And yet, they served their purpose. They gave the distracted girl blessed relief. In another minute or two she felt ashamed of herself for talking as she had, and was devoutly grateful that they hadn't understood. She had regained her breath and could talk to them somewhat more normally.

"You will be safe enough here, Sue girlie!" Bob was continuing to comfort her there on the porch. "Take it easy, now. I sent Walpi in my car to telephone the alarm and tell the stand-by crews where to come. They may have discovered the blaze as soon as we did, but they wouldn't know immediately the best place to choke it off. Look—if we can just get a swath cut right down through the trail you came up—the lake trail—we can stop the fire's progress and hold it in the canyon there. Otherwise it'll jump over that young growth on the trail and take the main forest, and in an hour all of Lookout Point will be burning!"

"I can s-see that, Bob. That's why I raced back here. I didn't know but what you had gone. I knew the fighting crews ought to c-concentrate here."

"You're smart, Susie, and sweet! And you're scratched up some, kid. Why don't—?"

"Bob, it's moving awfully fast! Look!"

"Oh, I say, can't we do something?" Monty Montgomery put in. "It seems such a waste just to stand here and watch it, King!"

"You and me and the gasoline truck driver are all the man power here, professor. And we haven't any equipment or tools, or explosives. We'd be worse than foolish to dash out there and try to spit on it. Sensible thing is to wait here until the CCC trucks arrive and then join them. They won't be long."

"Yes. Yes, of course. But how does—how do you combat a forest fire? In a city, water forms the chief weapon, but—"

"Of course we can't pipe water all over the forest," Bob put in. "So we have to fight fire with fire, or try to outwit it as best we can. If we can blast an open path that blocks its progress, well and good. Just cut a quick fire lane, where the blaze has no fuel."

"I had no idea it was so—frightening" Monty kept peering down the lake trail, anxiously looking for Rosemary. "Sue, where did you leave her? Are you sure she is safe?"

"We were across the lake. We'd been having fun. But she isn't used to swimming in this altitude, so I told her to walk or run back around the shore because it would be faster for her. I didn't see any more of her."

Sue's lovely face, already flushed from effort and excitement, showed anxiety anew, and the tone of her words added to it.

"I say, King," Monty began, "you are in charge, naturally, but don't you think one of us should go to aid her?"

"Professor, there's a dozen families—maybe thirty people or more—on Lookout Point! My business is to think of them first. If this whole area goes it wouldn't be so terrible as that!"

Monty realized, in a general sense, the truth of what Bob said. Save the most, if worst came to worst. It was a military dictum, a cold-blooded way of looking at it. It was the attitude Bob had taken when the fire was first discovered and apparently he meant to stick to it. Nevertheless, there was one salient fact uppermost in Monty's mind.

"Rosemary can take to the water. When the crew gets here we can dynamite right down the lake trail and blast out a lane that'll halt the fire." Bob was still speaking, calmly planning the campaign in meticulous detail. "Trucks can roll right over those bushes, and yet—by george, it's coming fast and no fooling about that!"

He stopped talking and walked out a short distance with Sue and the gasoline truck driver who had stood by, out to where they could command a better view of the conflagration, which was now hardly a quarter of a mile away. Then all at once the truck driver yelled.

"Hey!"

His gasoline truck itself was rolling!

* * *

They looked up to see Monty Montgomery driving the great truck loaded with 50-gallon drums of gasoline, fuel which was to have gone into Rosemary's new filling station tank.

"Hey! What're you doin'?" the driver shouted again, running forward.

Monty ignored all of them. He sped up the truck and turned it right down the steep lake trail.

Spellbound, they watched from a distance while he stopped at the first clump of shrubbery, left his steering wheel and rolled one of the filled drums onto the ground. Smoke drifted around him. Charred bits of bark and wood, glowing leaves and even flaming twigs and grasses that had been jerked upward by the suction of the fire, were dropping all around Monty and even onto him as he labored frantically there.

"Hey! Listen, man!" the truck man yelled a third time. "Don't you know that's gasoline?"

If Monty heard he paid no attention. By this time he was driving the truck down the hill, out of sight in the underbrush and smoke.

Dr. Montgomery rolled the first drum of gasoline off at a point where the first high shrubs blocked the trail. Then he jumped back to the truck cab.

He shot the power into low gear and plowed right over young sapling trees!

The thrill of conquest suddenly elated him. He wanted to fight something. He could have enjoyed fighting Bob King, so exasperated was he with that individual's methodical, impersonal attitude toward this terrifying situation. But now he could at least try this more sensible plan and give vent to his feelings as well.

A hundred feet or so further on he dropped another barrel of gasoline, and then had almost two hundred yards before he came to any more shrubbery. All the while he peered intently down trail for Rosemary.

He thought once to jump and run afoot, seeking her, or to plunge down the trail with his powerful truck.

"No," he decided quickly. "The fire might eat across here and trap us, then I should not have helped her at all."

Most of the drums were so stacked that they rolled off easily, heavy though they were. Where the brush was thickest, he dropped most. Halfway down the trail, sparks were falling on him and he could feel the growing heat from the blaze at his right. It was crackling and licking fast up the slope toward him now, roaring in the sun-dried foliage. He thought with renewed terror that the drums might explode on the truck, but his concern for Rosemary topped that.

The last six drums were hardest to handle. They rested in the truck bed and had to be rolled out the back end, taking prodigious labor, but when he had finished all but two of them he heard a shrieking ahead.

"Rosemary!" he yelled, and raced downhill to her.

With MARIANNE

Marianne

THAT season between seasons is here- if you know what I mean when it's just too warm to even think about fall clothes, and your wardrobe has all the summer togs it needs. . . . Consequently it would seem that the most pleasant thing to think about is a fragrant, cooling cologne to splash on after a refreshing shower on these scorching days. . . . Because the scents are light and the supply ample, you'll certainly like those tall, graceful bottles of cologne that a leading American manufacturer has designed especially for summertime use. . . . "Spring Lilac," "Evening Carnation," "Yankee Clover," "Three Flowers" and "Deuville" are the names of these.

Still on the subject of colognes, you'll find "Frosted Pine" appealing to both your nose and your eyes. . . . The cool-looking green liquid comes in an attractive bottle, and its fragrance reminds you of a shady northern woods. . . . Another new cologne is "Salute" which has a predominant blend of floral fragances. An accompanying item is a container of bath sponges, scented with the same aroma—these are little compressed cotton discs which fluff into pale blue washcloths when dropped in the bathtub. . . . One of the nicest soaps on the market is manufactured by a long-famous French perfume house in a variety of popular scents, and so you'll undoubtedly be pleased to learn that packages containing three cakes of the soap along with a complimentary bottle of cologne can be purchased downtown now—the most popular fragrances being "Carnation" and "Fleurs d'Amour."

During this hot summer season, none of us can be too careful about choosing a pleasant and reliable deodorant—and I'm sure you'll find the Water Lily deodorizing products to be quite satisfactory. . . . The liquid, cream and powder are non-greasy, stainless and soothing, removing all perspiration odors.

* * *

NO MATTER whether you're going vacationing or not, you'll find one of those little purse-like nail enamel kits to be a grand convenience. . . . The newest ones are made from dotted and striped pique in bright colors combined with white and close at the top with a zipper. . . . These handy sets contain polish, polish remover, emery boards and an ample supply of cotton.

One of the most frequently used items in milady's purse these days is a compact, because there's nothing quite so shiny as a nose in warm weather. . . . And so with that fact in mind, the stores are prepared to supply you with an attractive compact for the summer months. . . . Newest among these are the snuff boxes, which hold a goodly amount of powder and have a conveniently sized puff. . . . Some styles are finished with enameled patchwork designs, while others have wooden tops. In the usual type of compacts, the gayest ones are those of white enamel which have quilted designs in light pastel shades decorating their covers.

LOOKING for a change of face? Then you'll be delighted with the complete new line of cosmetics that a downtown store is featuring now. . . . These preparations are famous for a "Ten-o-Six" lotion which cleanses and stimulates circulation, while "Nite and Day" foundation gives a smooth appearance to the skin and aids in concealing minor blemishes. Other popular products in this line include cleansing cream, cream and dry rouge, powder, lipstick, night cream, emollient cream, a facial masque, pore cleansing pack and colognes. . . . The new fashionized shades of rouge and lipstick are Bonne Pink, Dragon Red, Plain Red, Red Apple, Ginger Red and Black Opal, while the cologne scents are "Swing Hi," "Swing Lo" and "English Blue Bells." Oh yes, and travel kits as well as purse kits are convenient highlights for insured success.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS: If you never seem to have enough closet space, you'll find the answer to this trying problem in some compact and handy cabinets one of the local stores is showing now. . . . There's a linen closet made of fiber with wooden frame and doors that has five roomy shelves, while a large cabinet for clothes also has tie racks, a shelf for hats and several for shoes. It's made of fiber with wood frame too, and is cedarized. . . . A new note for your wall will be found in one of those wooden plaques, on which a white silhouette design of catalyn has been superimposed.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Name Mrs. Mosey Chairman; Plan Conclave In Ohio

Mrs. William Mosey was named chairman of the Chi Sigma sorority national convention for 1941 yesterday evening during a meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Members of the Mansfield chapter of this organization will be hostesses for the annual sessions to be held in Cleveland next July.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Miller and Miss Mary Garver, delegate and alternate to this year's convention, held in Washington, D. C., last week, gave reports on activities there at last evening's meeting.

There were 24 sorority members present for the dessert-bridge party, and the refreshment course was served at small tables. The diversion was in play at five tables, with score prizes going to Mrs. Norman E. Leonard and Miss Jane Cunningham.

Misses Margaret McFadden, Florence Nail, Grace Ladd, Eileen Logan, Miss Miller and Mrs. Eugene Linham were hostesses for the affair. Miss Nail, who was elected president of Delta province of the sorority at the recent convention, announced that there will be a routine business session at the hotel next Tuesday evening.

Miscellaneous Shower Held For Spring Bride

Mrs. Gordon Watson entertained with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Charles Dickson yesterday evening at her home, 233 Walter avenue. The honoree was Miss Dorothy Lutz before her marriage in the spring.

The 16 guests played contests and games during the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Berlo, Mrs. W. C. Boling, Mrs. Robert Boling and Miss June Myers, who presented them to Mrs. Dickson.

At a late hour, luncheon was served at one long table and two smaller ones, which were decorated with flowers and lighted tapers in shades of green and yellow. The honoree then received the shower of gifts from the guests, and the hostess gave her an electrical gift.

FAREWELL PARTY.

In honor of Mrs. Coreta Maglott, who is leaving the Dominion Electric company, a group of her associates entertained Monday night with a picnic supper at Greter's lake. Arrangements were in charge of Dorothy Harbaugh, Isabel Cass, Jean Laux, Nellie Bonecutter, Ida Zediker, Ann Stehle, Margaret Clever, Berniece Harpster, Rosella Kibler, Mary Norris, Virginia Gentile, Evelyn Michle, Esther Franks and Doris Darling. The honoree was presented with an electrical and personal gift by the group.

Hat--Not Too Giddy

Mme. Pauline uses fox heads for this glamour hat and muff set. It's less expensive than those made of full fox skins.

'Bouquets' Topic For Linnaeus Garden Club

A dessert-luncheon was an event of yesterday noon for members of the Linnaeus Garden club at the home of Mrs. H. M. Armstrong, 30 Penn avenue. The refreshment course was served at small tables, decorated with miniature bouquets. During the afternoon's program, Mrs. Ray Hammer spoke on "Flower Bouquets of Yesteryear." The 12 members answered roll call by telling of memorable bouquets. Mrs. Fred Dippman conducted the flower study of the day, which was on the platycodon.

The next meeting, Aug. 13, will be a flower show and guest party at Middle park. A dessert luncheon will be served that noon, when the hostesses in charge of arrangements will be Mrs. Harvey Lanehart and Mrs. C. D. Sherrard.

ANNOUNCES PROGRAM.

There were 19 members of the Student club present last night at Middle park for a picnic. Mrs. M. L. Smith, vice president and program chairman, announced the topics and meeting dates for the coming season, and told the members that there will be four movies and two guest speakers included on the program. "This Land of Ours" will be the topic for the year.

PLAN PICNIC.

Members of the Jolly Lot club are having a picnic for their children tomorrow noon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Waddell on Fifth avenue. Mrs. H. H. Hoag will serve as the associate hostess.

ENTERTAINS CLASS.

Mrs. E. C. Shafer, West Fourth street road, was hostess yesterday to 17 members of the Ladies Bible class of the Ontario Community church. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Larry Stingel and Mrs. Ed Berger. Refreshments were served and games were played. The next meeting will be held Aug. 27 at the church.

ENTERTAINS CLUB.

Mrs. L. W. Shaffer, Sixth avenue, opened her home yesterday to the Bunco Eight club when Mrs. Sally Devore entertained with a covered-dish dinner. Prizes were won by Mrs. L. W. Shaffer, Mrs. Harry Wagner and Mrs. Paul Ammons. The next meeting will be held Aug. 6 at Mrs. Shaffer's with Mrs. Harry Wharton as hostess.

Daughters Have Guest Party at North Lake Park

There were 72 members and guests of the Joan of Arc circle, Daughters of Isabella in attendance at a picnic at North Lake park yesterday evening. Miss Mary Rizzo and her committee were in charge of the arrangements.

Card games were the diversion following dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Morton won the guest prize in auction bridge, while awards for the members were given to Mrs. R. C. Straub, Mrs. Joseph Massa and Mrs. O. C. Kalbfleisch. The guest prize for contract bridge was won by Miss Hortense Perl, and Mrs. John Daley, jr., and Mrs. James Kunneman were recipients of the membership prizes.

Prizes in pinochle games were awarded to Mrs. Ray Deninger and Mrs. G. A. Hurlow. The guest prize for five hundred was presented to Mrs. Willis Walter, and the high score members were Mrs. W. A. Wehinger and Mrs. Newt DeWeese.

The circle members will meet for a business session at their club rooms in the Bird building on Aug. 13.

Three Rules For Family Happiness

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D

THREE THINGS which parents can do to further home happiness of their children are, first, that the parents get along well with each other; second, that the parents take real interest in what the children are doing but without snooping or interfering; and, third, that the parents should be frank about the family budget, so that if necessary the children can earn additional funds to save face among their companions, or so they would understand why they could not have more.

So spoke Dr. Malcolm McLeane of the University of Minnesota before the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at Omaha, Nebraska, a few months ago. As I listened to him I felt he was getting at the essentials in home happiness. These three things are those, indeed, which have been most often mentioned as essential to family happiness by university students.

Repeatedly in this column I have held that the relationships between parents — how cooperative, agreeable and companionable they are—is the first essential to happy, wholesome upbringing of the children. Constantly I have been pleading for a better understanding by the parents of the child, and great consideration and respect by the parents of the child as a sacred personality; for a family atmosphere, moreover, in which every member shares in the family plans, including the family budget.

All Overlap.

All these three factors which further home happiness overlap, as you can see. Parents who have great regard for each other as persons, each deferring to the other, neither considering himself or herself superior to the other; parents who exercise toward each other the nice amenities of social grace, who strive never to sink to the level of the common plane in their mutual relationship, who celebrate successes in each other who cooperate and try to pull together as a team—such parents find it easy to treat their growing children as they treat each other.

Parent Ideals.

Of course it is too much to suppose that any parent pair will entirely attain these ideals in relationship all the time, human nature being what it is. Nevertheless, some parents get very near to these goals and many are able to progress toward them. Fortunate are those children whose parents keep striving toward these desirable objectives and don't give up, however hard the struggle may become.

It seems to me that intelligent parents, beginning even before the first child is born, are doing well when they often talk together about their aims, ideals and goals as parents and try to work out together a program they are able and willing to follow.

Then, as they find themselves achieving some successes with this program they gain assurance that they can press on toward the goals they have set for themselves.

A selected list of books on understanding and guiding babies, children and youth may be had by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DADDY DEMANDS GRADE.

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—The divorce decree of a University of Oklahoma professor provides $50 a month payments to each of his two children shall cease if their grades drop below "C."

VARIED ACTIVITIES OFFER DIVERSIONS

Mid-Summer Events Continue Unabated In Spite of Summer Heat; Regular Sessions Held By Several Groups Yesterday.

AS EVERYBODY in the down town area complained about the heat and the incessant racket of the West Fourth street area, and as the stay-at-homes thankfully relaxed in the cooling breezes of electric fans, mid-summer social life took on a variety of forms in order to entertain club women and leaders. Out at Westbrook in spite of the broiling sun the members of the Women's association teed-off at 9 a. m. for regular matches.

Flight prizes were presented to Mrs. Alan Tappan, Mrs. R. W. Stevens and Mrs. Elmer Hedeen. It was announced at this time that the first matches of the handicap tournament must be played before next Tuesday. Today members of the club are being entertained at one of the regular buffet bridge-luncheons with Mrs. F. A. Voegele in charge.

During the afternoon Miss Lois Traxler was a guest at the meeting of the Auxiliary to the Letter Carriers association which was held at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Traxler, 130 Blanche street. Plans were made during the business session for a family picnic to be held Aug. 27 at Brookside park in Ashland.

Games and contests were the diversion of the afternoon, with Mrs. Harry Everly, Mrs. Denny Schooley, Mrs. Grace Pollock, Mrs. Harold Lersch and Mrs. James Frey winning the prizes. The September meeting, the date of which was not announced, will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Winters.

Members of the American Legion Bridge club were entertained at the Legion home yesterday by Mrs. Earl Saltzgaber and Mrs. J. R. Shively. Cards were in play at six tables with prizes in contract going to Mrs. Harvey Burghard and Mrs. Frank Duff.

The auction winners were Mrs. Fred Schnitzer and Mrs. Fred Roth. The next meeting will be held Aug. 6 at the home with Mrs. Ralph Hughes and Mrs. H. R. Wolf in charge.

Mrs. Custer Gives Luncheon Party for Niece, Miss Wolfe

The first party to be given in Mansfield in honor of Miss Louise Wolfe, bride-elect of Edward Reaser, Ashland, was a luncheon-bridge for 16 yesterday at the Women's Club. Mrs. J. Clirke Custer, aunt of Miss Wolfe, was the hostess. Water lilies and green appointments made a cool green and white decorative scheme for the table.

Bridge was in play at three tables with prizes going to Miss Mariann Stander, Mrs. A. W. Doelling and Mrs. Deming Lowrey. The hostess presented the honoree with a gift of silver.

Guests included Mrs. William Green, Columbus; Mrs. H. A. Reaser, Mrs. Robert Banks, Mrs. Ralph Diffenboerser, Miss Harriett Reaser, and Miss Betty Jane Donley, all of Ashland.

Miss Wolfe and Mr. Reaser will be married at the St. Luke's Lutheran church by Rev. H. S. Garnes at 7:30 p. m. Aug. 10.

Wants Veil For Second Marriage

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My first marriage had no poetry. I eloped with a man old enough to be my father, and was married by a Justice of the Peace. I wore a coat and skirt I'd been wearing to school all winter. We had no reception, no presents or any of the lovely things that make marriage beautiful. At the end of a year I was divorced.

I'm only 20 now, and am marrying the real love of my life. Why can't I have a veil and a wedding dress, and all of those things I missed when I married the first time? My mother and older sister say that if you've been married once, you can't wear a veil or a white dress. I feel that half the pleasure of my marriage will be spoiled if I can't look like a real bride this time.

JUST TWENTY.

I hate to side with your mother and sister, but they're quite right. A bridal veil and white satin wedding dress for a girl who's been married before, even if she's only 20, would be distinctly bad form. Why not wear a smart coat suit or one-piece dress off-white in color? Palest beige, blush pink, maize, or faint blue? These colors come in shades hardly discernible from white. Then wear a big picture hat with flowers, and white accessories. You'll find these things sufficiently bride-like.

4-H Clubs

WILLARD — Huron county agent, Guy Hummond of Norwalk, was a guest when members of Dad's Partners 4-H Club met at the home of Burdette and Forrest Robinson Monday evening.

Gordon Whetstone, vice president, presided during the business session when the record books of the club were discussed. The demonstrations for this meeting, conducted by the hosts, was "the care of calves' feet."

The next meeting will be at the home of Joe Robinson, July 29.

RALLY PLANNED

ASHLAND — The Ashland county Young Democratic club will meet at the court house assembly room here this Friday evening, to discuss plans for the coming ox roast to be held here by the Ashland county Democratic committee on August 3.

Ross Wolfe, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee will speak at the meeting.

Furs Fashioned Like Cloth In Newest Styles

Left to right: Three-quarter sealskin box coat; white fox jacket; silver fox stole.

By SUSAN BARDEN

With August just around the corner, those of you who have had your heart set on a fur coat will be attending the fur sales with an eye to buying.

One of the nice things about furs this year is that the fashion element is more dominant than ever before. The kind of fur coat you get is important, of course, but how smart its lines are is even more important.

Fur has suddenly come into its own as a medium for the art of styling. Years back no one would have thought of taking a pelt and shirring it to achieve a yoke or blouse. This year, pelts have been sheared and stitched and "set up" to make all these clever dressmaker fur fashions.

Instead of softness, straight up and down lines, with a long, narrow look in such furs as Persian lamb, beaver, sealskin, silver fox and even mink. There seems to be no limitation any longer in fashioning fur coats you can find them gathered, draped, shirred and pleated in strategic points to give you the most flattering lines possible.

So you are free in 1940 to choose the silhouette that is most becoming to you. Though swaggers and boxcoats still are perennial favorites, there are many enticing models offered in modified princess lines, bloused backs and softly pleated models. Most of the full-length styles are made to cover the knee bone and to cover your dress completely.

Of course there are a lot of the extremely useful finger-length or boy swagger lines. Shoulders are tempered too. And it's no secret sleeves for furs are puffed up and out. Now they are trim and tailored, but amazed in width to the outer confines of you arms.

The two-skin silver fox stole worn by the model in the above photograph was created by Dein-Bacher of the Waldorf. It is a great comfort in air-conditioned rooms, and will not be too warm for balmy weather. The two skins are fashioned in a pretzel design to fall gracefully over the shoulders and end in convenient slits, allowing the hands to be passed through when you are wearing evening gowns or suits.

Jane Wyman is wearing another luxurious fur. It is made of white fox dyed to resemble lynx, and with its broad shoulders and three-quarters length sleeves, it is suitable for both daytime and evening.

The other coat is made of brown Alaska sealskin in a three-quarter length stand-collar model of satin brown, with utility pouch pockets and a chic neck-band collar.

THEATERS

Authentic Background.

The chill and melancholy splendor of that house in Paris, where in 1817 was unfolded the strange and passionate story of the Duke and Duchess de Praslin and the unhappy Henriette Delusy-Desportes, is recreated with minute accuracy for the Bette Davis-Charles Boyer film, "All This and Heaven Too" continuing at the Ohio through Thursday. From the files of the Illustrated London News, the research department supplied pictures and floor plans of the house as reported by that newspaper.

Story of the Old West.

The grand old greyhound of the plains, the American stage coach, is the hero of the latest Mulford action romance, "Stage Coach War" showing at the Madison. The action centers around the phase of the express business in the old West and which provided much entertainment of the day. The star is William Boyd. The co-feature is "Those Were the Days" with William Holden, Bonita Granville, Ezra Stone and Judith Barrett in the leading roles.

"The Man In the Iron Mask"

"Secrets of a Model" showing beginning Thursday at the Park, will take the audience on a trip through Hollywood, to see Artists studios, lavish apartments and other scenes never before shown. The co-feature is "The Man In the Iron Mask" in which Joan Bennett and Louis Hayward have the leads.

Judith Anderson Acclaimed.

Judith Anderson, who the New York drama critics ranked last season as the finest actress of the year for her performance in "Family Portrait," again comes to the front for her portrayal in "Rebecca" which is showing at the Ritz. Joan Fontaine and Laurence Oliver have the leading roles but Miss Anderson as the macabre Mrs. Danvers almost surpasses them in acting ability. The co-feature is "The King of the Lumberjacks."

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Go to Mrs. Underwood's room where my things also are," I directed, "and bring us two of those zipper cotton aprons that cover our dresses altogether. Also bring us that jar of cold cream I use after my garden work, some cleansing tissues and soap and towels."

"Me, I fly," Katie assured us earnestly, "und I coom back qveeck as lettle sheeps vag hees tail, und I say nodings to nobody."

"See that you remember that last promise, Katie," Lillian admonished her.

"We shall not need you, Katie," I said. "We can help each other. Go back to the kitchen."

"You sure you no need me?" she wavered, with the evident hope that if she stayed she might learn more of the adventure, so mysterious to her, from which we had just returned.

But I was adamant.

"Quite sure," I told her, and with a pathetic, resigned little sigh she made her way downstairs, her footsteps lagging despondently.

"Poor Katie!" Lillian apostrophized her retreating back, and then we forgot her in the absorbing task of restoring our faces to their usual texture.

We took the worst of the grime off with cold cream, the balance with soap and warm water. Then we looked at each other and pronounced a verdict.

"All right, when we have our cosmetics on," we assured each other, and Lillian added practically:

"Then we'd better finish this up in our own room."

She gathered up our belongings as she spoke, and I took part of them from her. Then we made our way through the door connecting Katie's little apartment with the rest of the second floor, and reached the room I was sharing with Lillian without meeting anyone. There we completed our toilets, and feeling "clothed and in our right minds" again, we sat down to await the arrival of our husbands.

They came without much delay, and upon their entrance stood looking at us with what they evidently wished to be stern, reproving glances.

But Lillian spoiled their effect by going up to her big husband, taking his ears in her fingers and tweaking them, the while she laughed impudently at him.

"It won't do, Harry," she said, "I realize you have a right to be sore, and it's awfully sweet of you both to be so anxious about us. But we're not babies."

"No, you're in your second childhood," he growled, but she swept on unheeding.

"And when you go into danger, we're going too, every time we can swing it, so be careful!"

I had said nothing, but Dicky spoke to me, in answer to Lillian's ultimatum.

"But you ought to know, Madge, why we had to go on this particular expedition," he said.

"I do know," I told him. "Father would have gone if his feebleness had not endangered the expedition, and you felt that you could not send strangers out on an expedition for securing Mary's safety unless you shared the risk. And Harry, as always, shared your danger. But—don't you see—Lillian and I had to share it, too."

He crossed over to me impetuously, drew me quickly into his arms and gave me a fervent kiss.

"You're an anointed idiot, but a darling one," he said.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, July 25.

Swift-moving events on this day, with things progressing at lively tension, possibly in the launching of new and rather important projects. The creative energies will be under fine impetus for accomplishing definite and exalted ambitions, moderated by application, sound judgment and practical restraints, although impelled to rather dynamic impetuosity which might prove detrimental.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very lively and exciting time, with much stirring over new projects or ambitions of a highly skillful and constructive quality. The energies are quickened to fine initiative, with those in prestige and standing co-operative.

A child born on this day should have splendid creative talents and energies with high ambitions and practical incentives, even though optimistic, with expansive and large visioned ideals.

RECOMMENDED (Tonight)

Europe and Inter-American — WEAF-NBC 6:15, 6:45; CBS 7:55, 9:30; WJZ-NBC 9; MBS 9, 9:15; NBC II (ES?).

WJZ-NBC — 9:30 National Symphony, Dr. Frank Black.

(Thursday)

Europe and Inter-American — NBC 7 a. m., 12:45 p. m.; CBS 7 a. m., 5:45 p. m.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

NO "NEGATIVE NO TRUMP"

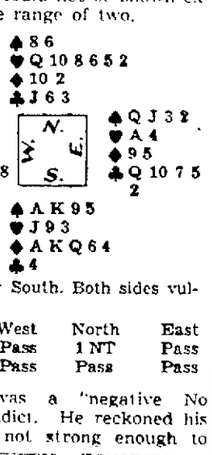
EXCEPT WITH a very small minority, there is no longer any such bid as the "negative No Trump" among fine players. In a hand barely strong enough to respond at all, they prefer to show a biddable suit if it can be inserted at the range of one. This does not show more strength than a 1-No Trump response. The hand may be either strong or quite weak, and the partner doesn't find out until later. The only time No Trump is bid in response as a weakness bid is when the suit is one which could not be shown except at the range of two.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♦ | Pass | 1 NT | Pass |
| 2 ♠ | Pass | Pass | Pass |

North was a "negative No Trump" addict. He reckoned his hand was not strong enough to bid a suit in response to South's opening suit bid of one. When South then showed his spades at the range of two, North was afraid to bid his hearts at three, since he was vulnerable, or even show a diamond preference at three. So he passed, and his poor partner was set two tricks.

Had North bid properly, the side would have made a game. Over the 1-Diamond, his right bid, by intelligent modern methods, was 1-Heart South would then have bid 1-Spade, whereupon North should have made the weak rebid of 2-Hearts. Hearing this good news, South should have jumped at once to 4-Hearts, since he had enough cards of the suit to support it when rebid. The contract would have been made with the loss of just two tricks in trumps and one in clubs.

Cacti From Cuttings.

Cactus plants can easily be grown from cuttings. The cuttings, however, should be made with a very sharp knife. To avoid rot forming at the cut ends, do not plant the cuttings immediately, but allow them to lie in the sun for several hours, or several days, until a skin forms over the cut place. This skin will seal the wound area and prevent germs from entering.

Lapine Predicts 1,000 Votes for All-Star Squad

Approximately 500 Votes In; Half-Way Total Will Be Published Thursday.

DON'T FORGET, softball fans, tomorrow you will get an idea of how your favorite Y. M. C. A. league player is doing in the race to land a berth on the Mansfield Wrecking Company All-Star team which will meet the undefeated Sons of Herman in a series for the city championship.

With approximately 500 votes already in, Dave Lapine, business manager for the All-Stars, who is in charge of the ballots, predicts at least 1,000 votes before the deadline, midnight, Saturday, July 27.

Lapine, assisted by Charles Martin of the News-Journal, will tabulate the votes at the half-way mark tonight and the totals will be published in tomorrow's News-Journal.

What appears as one of the finest softball series to be played in Mansfield in several years will be offered fans in this five-game affair.

Manager Frank Beeber of the Hermans and Nick Wagner, pilot of the All-Stars have made predictions as to which team will win and their respective players will be out to make their bosses' statements good.

* * *

Both pilots believe their team is capable of annexing the city title in three straight games and it will be interesting to see which one finishes on top.

* * *

Although the playing site has not been selected as yet, Lapine announced today that the series will be played on one of the city's best softball diamonds.

* * *

If you haven't voted for your favorites yet you will find a ballot elsewhere on this page. Fill it out and mail to Lapine in care of the Mansfield Wrecking company, 585 North Main street before Saturday.

Hahn Pitches Second No-Hit No-Run Game

Braves Hurler Blanks Pirates 14-0.

Hahn, star Braves' hurler, pitched his second no-hit, no-run game in a row as his team walloped the Pirates 14 to 0 in a Friendly House Knot-hole loop contest yesterday at the Fairground.

Out of the 15 batters who faced him, Hahn struck out four and walked eight. Frantz was on the mound for the Pirates, giving the hard-hitting Braves 11 hits.

The Braves scored three runs in the first frame, two in the third, five in the fourth and four in the fifth to total their 14 markers.

Hahn also led the Braves in hitting by getting three hits out of four trips to the platter. Hahn smacked out two triples and a single. Cameron, Braves' catcher, also got a triple.

In the other Knot-hole league contest last night the Cubs blasted the Dodgers 4 to 1. Pace was on the mound for the Cubs, while Sauer straddled the hill for the Dodgers.

Schedule for Thursday: Indians vs. Yankees at 1 p. m. and Giants vs. the Red Sox following.

Battling Dodgers Battle Again---With Reds

The battling Brooklyn Dodgers, freshly returned from a western trip where they staged a free-for-all with the Chicago Cubs, showed 35,000 home town fans how it's done when they became involved in a general melee with the Cincinnati Reds in the eighth inning of the first game of a twin bill, both games of which the Reds captured. Battlers and peace-makers are shown rushing to the scene of action in this photo while Lonnie Frey of the Reds, No. 11, who started it all, picks himself up from the ground. Standing over Frey is Peewee Reese of the Dodgers who is trying to hold back Pete Coscarart into whom Frey slid, breaking up a double play and allowing the tying run to score. Running to the melee are Freddie Fitzsimmons, No. 14, and Vito Tamulis, No. 13, both of the Dodgers.

Redlegs Stretch Lead To Seven Full Games

BROOKLYN —(AP)—There might be those who still believe the Reds won't win the National league pennant but they are getting about as hard to find as matches in a munitions factory and in Cincinnati are just about as popular.

* * *

The Reds were seven games ahead as they faced the second place Dodgers in a final tilt of their three-game series tonight, with everything looking like it was made to order for them.

Both teams called on their ace hurlers, with Bucky Walters, who has won 14 and lost only four games for the Reds, meeting Tex Carleton, who plastered a no-hit triumph on the Rhinelanders April 30.

But after the Reds' twin trouncing of Brooklyn yesterday, 4-3 and 9-2, Cincinnatians believed the Brooklyn fire-baller could do no more than close the barn door after the horse was stolen. However, the Reds have 72 games yet to play.

A fight between Second Baseman Lonnie Frey of the Reds and Pete Coscarart of the Dodgers in the eighth inning climaxed the 11-inning opener.

With the Reds trailing 3-2 Frey slid into second high and hard to avoid a double play and Pitcher Gene Thompson of the Reds carried a spike wound out of the melee which took two stitches.

Bill Werber tallied on the critical play and the winning run was counted on a double by Ernie Lombardi, a sacrifice and a single by Mike McCormick in the final frame. Joe Beggs got credit for the victory and Whitlow Wyatt took the loss.

* * *

The league leaders collected 17 hits from four Brooklyn pitchers in the nightcap to chalk up six runs before Whitey Moore gave the Dodgers a run in the sixth.

He allowed only seven hits, including Harry Lavagetto's homer in the eighth.

4 GAMES SCHEDULED

SPRINGFIELD, O.—(AP)—Four games have been scheduled today in the Ohio semi-pro baseball tournament here: Alcony All-Stars vs. New Holland, Springfield National Supply vs. Troy McKaig Gardeners, Lima Superior Body vs. Springfield International Harvester and Columbus Eagles vs. Columbus State Hospital. Rain caused postponement of two games last night.

Charleston Moves Up

Senators Wallop Akron Yanks 9 to 3.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)—Charleston's Senators shaved a half-game off the Mid-Atlantic league lead of the Akron Yankees last night with a 9 to 3 walloping of the Youngstown Browns while the Yanks split a twin bill with Canton.

The results left Akron with only a two and a half game advantage.

The Yanks were forced to put together four hits in the eighth inning of a scheduled seven-inning first game to gain a 6 to 5 win over Canton. The Terriers walked away with the nine-inning second game, 13 to 4.

* * *

Portsmouth bunched 10 hits off Dykes Potter for a 5 to 3 victory over Dayton.

Braves Beaten Again

Fostoria Stops Mansfield, 6 to 2; Red Birds Here Tonight.

THE Mansfield Braves, fighting to cut down the lead held by the second-place Findlay Oilers, ran into trouble again last night at Fostoria and dropped a 6 to 2 decision to the Red Birds.

Manager Dewey Stover and his squad entertain the last-place Red Birds at the Fairground at 8:30 p. m. today and Bob Arnold is expected to get the call to halt the dangerous Fostoria combine.

Tony Angaran worked on the hill last night, but he couldn't do anything with the Red Birds. The Braves gave him a 2 to 0 lead in the first, but Fostoria knotted the score in the second and forged into the lead with a marker in the fifth.

Angaran, one of the mainstays of the pitching corps, limited the Red Birds to nine hits, but one of them was a triple by Consoli and it figured prominently in the scoring.

Meanwhile, the Braves were held to five hits by Osborne and after the first the club didn't threaten seriously. Mansfield had men in scoring positions three times, but Fostoria erased the threat with timely double plays.

While the Braves were taking a beating from the Red Birds, the Tiffin Mudhens came up to hand the league-leading Lima Pandas an 8 to 7 whipping in a 14 inning contest—the longest tilt of the current season.

Findlay picked up a game on the leaders by blasting out an 18 to 6 victory over fourth-place Fremont.

Mansfield invades Fremont Thursday night and will return to the Fairground to meet the Green Sox before a "Ladies' night" gathering at the Fair park at 8:30 p. m. Friday.

Gene Woodling continued to shine at the plate last night by clouting out a double and single to pace the Braves. Stover added a double to the attack.

KEN OVERLIN TO FIGHT IN SCRANTON TONIGHT

SCRANTON, Pa.— (AP) —Opening the campaign to bring big-time boxing back to the coal mines, middleweight champion Ken Overlin tangles tonight with hard hitting young Billy Soose at Scranton stadium.

Although no title is at stake because of the 10-round stipulation and a weight agreement, this brawl is the most important to be staged in the anthracite region since Pete Latzo wrested the middleweight crown from Mickey Walker at Scranton armory in 1926.

A crowd of 10,000 and a gate of $15,000 is expected.

Schoolmasters Run Total Up To 6 Straight

Wallop OPS 12 to 3 In Club Loop Game.

Schoolmasters' league-leading softball combine ran its total up to six straight victories by walloping the Ohio Public Service outfit 12 to 3 in a Y. M. C. A. Club league contest last night at Blue Goose field.

Scoles was on the mound for the Schoolmasters, allowing the Ohio Public Service team seven hits. Airhart pitched for the losers.

Boling, Schoolmaster firstbaseman, starred in the batter's box by getting a triple and a double out of three trips. Scinobrey of the OPS managed a double and a single out of three journeys, while Zeides of the OPS belted out a triple.

The contest last night had all the earmarks of a close one until the fourth frame when the Schoolmasters staged an eight run rally. The Schoolmasters have not lost a game in the Club league this year.

Linksmen Set Tough Pace

Publinks Golfers Stage Hot Qualifier.

DETROIT—(AP)— This is sudden death day for the 64 play-for-fun golfers who were lucky enough to get by the hottest pair of qualifying rounds in the 19 year history of the national public links championship.

In two 18 hole rounds today, the field is pared from 64 to 16.

Co-Medalists Worth Stimits, jr., of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Ed Furgol, Utica, N. Y., metalworker, set a new qualifying record of 138. The rest of the field had to shoot 149 or better to gain a match play berth, bettering by two strokes the lowest previous qualifying mark set at Cleveland in 1938.

Carl Kaufman, Pittsburgh, victor in three straight tournaments beginning in 1927, met E. Carfield, Cleveland, today.

Al Leach of Cleveland, 1938 champion, lost out with 77-75 —152.

Indians Gain on Tigers

'Little Thunder' Gets 3 Hits Out of 4 Trips to Plate.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — "Muzzle Weatherly!"

That's the cry that went up today from Roy Weatherly's teammates and Cleveland Indians' fans.

They meant nothing derogatory—just wanted to make sure, after the outfielder's performance last night, that he wouldn't be lost indefinitely to the Tribe for sassing umpires.

"Little Thunder" rapped out three hits in four trips to the plate and drove in the Tribe's lone run as Al Milnar handcuffed the Philadelphia Athletics 1 to 0 in the first game of a two-week home stand.

Weatherly let his bat do the speaking—and eloquently—after Manager Oscar Vitt several hours earlier reported the American league might suspend the outfielder indefinitely unless he tempered his remarks to the game's arbiters. He was put out of the first game of a doubleheader at Boston Sunday for the way he addressed Umpire Bill McGowan in protesting a called strike.

The victory was Milnar's 13th and it started auspiciously the Tribe's drive to regain first place on home ground. It moved Cleveland within a half-game of the leading Detroit Tigers, who lost to Washington.

* * *

Johnny Babich, who lost a game to Bob Feller by the same score less than two weeks ago, allowed six hits, as did Milnar.

Al Smith, winner of nine against three losses, was chosen for the Indians' mound duty today against Lovill (Chubby) Dean for the Athletics.

BRITISH CLAIM MAJOR BATTLE WON IN SKIES

Repulse Aerial Attack of Nazis From Channel To Scotland.

and similar attacks were made on southwest Scotland

In southwest Scotland a lone raider was reported to have dropped four high explosive and a number of incendiary bombs setting fire to several buildings

In one air battle off the south east coast the Germans were reported to have lost six Messerschmitt fighters

The Royal Air Force accounted for one bomber off the south west coast and another bomber was shot down by British fighters off the southeast coast

The Germans lost another plane when British fighters dropping out of the clouds attacked six German bombers which were diving on a convoy off the southeast English coast Although the Germans were reported to have dropped 100 bombs it was believed that they scored no hits and the squadron fled after attack by the British

Operations were described chiefly as activity by the British in picking off increasingly persistent German hit-and-run raiders off the English Scottish and Welsh coasts British planes meanwhile continued to blast at German military objectives

British planes had bombed Dunkirk harbor striking at ships on which the Germans might send troops across the narrow belt of sea to British shores They had bombed aircraft factories and parks gasoline depots a synthetic oil plant munitions factories canal barges and munitions plants in the Ruhr home of the great Krupp works

For a brief time the determination with which Britain was throwing all its resources into the balance of war occupied the public mind

Sir Kingsley Wood chancellor of the exchequer told parliament he would need $5 500 000 000 needed for the present fiscal year had upped income tax and tobacco beer and wine taxes A purchase or sales tax which was calculated to slash to a minimum what is called luxury buying was in prospect

"It is difficult to state the confidence of the chancellor that we can escape inflation without much more drastic measures of taxation" said the conservative Daily Telegraph Sir Kingsley Woods budget must be regarded as disappointing in that it lags considerably behind both the necessities of the hour and the expectations of the nation

Under the new income tax rates those whose incomes do not exceed 120 pounds ($480) a year remain exempt But a single person who earns 2 pounds a week ($10) must now pay 2 08 pounds ($8 32) in tax for the current years

he set forth in accepting a third term nomination last week Saying that problems of national defense would keep him close to Washington He announced that his campaign would be mainly through his semi-weekly press conferences and occasional radio reports to the nation

Singling out the four prominent Democrats who have announced their support of Willkie, he used the terms "sweat shops" and "dollars versus humanity" to express what he thought of "renegade Democrats"

These four include former Undersecretary of Treasury John W. Hanes and Lewis W Douglas Both broke with the administration over fiscal policy Referring to them as Johnny and Good old Lew Mr Roosevelt indicated that he thought his party could well continue without them

Sen Ed and R Burke of Nebraska he described as a Democrat who had not bolted his party but had been bolted by the party Burke was defeated for renomination in the Nebraska Democratic primary

Former Senator James A Reed of Missouri who has sponsored a meeting of "left wing Democrats" at Chicago for the purpose to organize opposition to a third term, the president said had deserted his party in 1932 and probably had bolted in 1928 when Alfred E Smith was defeated by Herbert Hoover The term sweat shop was applied to Reed The country would remember his statement in such a case referring to labor board action against garment factories opposed by Mrs Reed which Reed opposed as his wife's counsel

his hottest of the day was the Cheyenne speech judged by both weather and text

Guest of Republicans gathered in the basement of the Masonic corsistory Willkie literally and figuratively peeled off his coat and attacked the administration and the political machine

In this campaign he said every corrupt machine will be fighting us machines which have been supported and their strength built up by taxpayers money fed out from Wesnington

"I mention particularly the Hague machine in New Jersey which has attempted to throttle civil liberties, the Boss Crump machine in Tennessee, the Kelly-Nash machine in Chicago

I am proud of the fact that they will be fighting me

No fancy phrases pointed up by a brain trust in some back room and delivered by a melodious voice over the air are going to keep us from putting the real issues of this campaign before the American people The government belongs to we the people and we are going to take it back

An interesting feature of Willkie's Cheyenne speech was his reference to the new leadership of the Republican party and he named such men as Rep Joe Martin of Massachusetts Rep Charles Halleck of Indiana Rep Frank Horton of Wyoming Governor Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut, Governor Ralph Carr of Colorado Governor Nils Smith of Wyoming and Governor Harlan Bushfield of South Dakota

All these are men who supported his nomination candidacy either before Philadelphia or in sufficient time to be acknowledged as original Willkie men

night The raiders did little damage the high command declared

DNB official German news agency elaborating on the communique said the British submarine was attacked in the North Sea east of Aberdeen Scotland by a plane which dived to within 250 feet of the water before dropping three bombs

One hit the submarine near its conning tower DNB said and a few minutes later the boat nosed down leaving a widening smear of oil on the water

One German plane was lost in yesterdays raiding activities the high command said noting that adverse weather conditions limited flights

Meanwhile as Germany got ready for the decisive assault on the British Isles, her diplomats undertook a program of "constructive diplomacy" to insure peace in the southeast.

An announcement that Rumanian and Bulgarian statesmen had been invited to confer with Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop later in the week was taken as an indication Germany might have suggestions for easing old tensions in the Balkans which she is prepared to recommend to both or less urgently

Informed sources reiterated Germany wants peace in the southeast and that she may be regarded as having a vital interest in any events tending to disturb order in that region

SEPT. 1 DATE SET FOR DRAFT

Quick Action Promised After Congress Approves Bill; Training In Month.

trainees to be inducted into the ranks on Oct 1. The selective service machinery would require a minimum of 30 days to examine, classify and select the first contingent

Under existing plans in additional 100 000 young men out of the 17 000 000 pool would be summoned for service on April 1 1941 and perhaps another 600 000 the following Oct 1

If world conditions grow worse however army officials said that we might have to train more

If congress passes the compulsory training bill as late as Aug 15 said an official of the selective service committee registration easily might take place Sept 1 though advance notice would be desirable

If authority is given by congress the national guard possibly will be mobilized about the same date the army high command has indicated The army's training plan is based on guard mobilization

Assuming congressional approval and a first year draft of not more than 800 000 between 21 and 30 army officials said that subsequent plans were to give other men from 21 to 45 a year's training in the army navy, marine corps at the rate of about 1 000 000 annually

Men with families or dependents in key civil or industrial jobs, or otherwise disqualified would be granted deferred status through local selection board similar to those used during the World war draft

Men selected for training would serve one year probably at the basic army and navy pay of $21 month then placed in the reserve

War department authorities estimated that the vast training program would add $1 000 000 000 to defense costs in the first year and $750 000 000 annually thereafter

Attendants Would Scatter if Customers Chattered.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A worried voice on the phone inquired of a county morgue attache concerning a missing relative in fear he might have met with foul play.

"He's five feet eight inches tall," said the caller, "and he was wearing a dark suit and a little gray hat. Oh, yes—and he stutters."

"We couldn't have him," answered the attendant. "None of the fellows downstairs stutters."

'Streamlined' Fair Opens Week From Today

72nd Program Has Top-Notch Attractions

Directors Arrange for 'Best' Amusements For Four-Day Event

Richland county fair board directors today had set the stage for the opening one week from today of their 72nd annual day and night fair, a four-day farm exposition with what the directors call a "streamlined" program.

Doors will open a week from this morning, July 31, and on each day following directors will present what they believe is the best program ever presented at a county fair here.

Sidetracking harness races for the first time in a number of years the fair board has designed a program which they feel confident will be more attractive than if past patronage would have permitted a harness races meeting.

H. H. Wolf, fair board president called it a matter of "good business' to cancel harness races this year because of lack of patronage and replace them with events that appear to be more attractive to fairgoers.

New among the events scheduled for this year is the first annual Junior Olympics, an event for children, to be held on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 2 and 3, on two special childrens' days.

The Olympics are an athletic program in which all Richland county boys and girls between the ages of nine and 15 can compete or be spectators. Cash prizes will be given the winners. In the afternoon of these two days children will be admitted to the grandstand shows for 10 cents. Picnic space will be on the fairground for those bringing their lunches.

Also an outstanding new feature is a World's fair attraction, first time seen in this section of the country, the Believe It Or Not Show by Ripley.

Some of the highlights offered during the four-day program are these:

Dick Rogers All-American Maniacs an automobile race and thrill show; a sensational balloon ascension in which a girl is fired from a cannon attached to the gas bag at 3,000 feet in the air to be given on three afternoons of the fair, the B X B rodeo and circus acts, the Pine Ridge Review; Sham Battle by Mansfield's Ohio National Guardsmen, Battery D.; American Legion Drum Corps drill, Cleveland's Troop A of mounted policemen giving a show in novel and trick riding; the Boone County Jamboree doing a regular WLW radio broadcast directly from the fairground stage; Egyptian Follies including a spectacular act called "Hitler's Doom."

Other attractions during the week include the second annual tug-of-war contest between man-pulling teams from all of Richland county townships; women's hog calling or husband calling contest; pony races; milk races; and an unprecedented draft horse show.

Fair's 'Modern Milkmaids' In Shorts

Shorts for cool summer wear are what modern milkmaids are wearing these days too. Miss Glenna Jean Campbell and her sister, Miss Marie Ellen Campbell are the "milkmaids" posing for the cover page of this county fair special edition. They live on Lexington road where their father operates a dairy farm. This year's fair is called a "streamlined" fair so what would be more appropriate than having two modern milkmaids portrayed as on the cover page. The special edition is complete with details on nearly all entertainment which fair officials have booked for the day and night fair program July 31 to Aug. 3 inclusive. A greater mid-way is scheduled for this year's performance. Numerous rides and shows will be on the mid-way in addition to an unusually large number of concession stands.

Expect More Than 150 Draft Horses at Show

Well over 150 draft horses will be shown at the county fair's horse show, according to predictions of R. D. Hale, secretary.

The secretary announced that each day's mail has brought in numerous entries and that more are expected between now and fair time.

Fair board directors in charge of the show are C. C. Shafer and Lewis Rinehart.

Daredevils On Program For First Day

Smashing, crashing and racing of automobiles and motorcycles by what are rated to be some of the most outstanding thrill show daredevils will perform at the Richland county fair this year on "opening day," Wednesday, July 31.

Dick Rogers' All American-Motor Maniacs is the attraction. Two performances will be given, afternoon and night.

Twelve acts designed to chill spectators with performers' acts of daring are booked for the thrill show along with nine comedy features.

said R. D. Hale, secretary of the Richland fair board: "We are told that every known thrill stunt that can be done with motor cars and cycles will make up the program on this opening day feature."

The acts include jumping an automobile over six other automobiles, crashing through a burning wall; daredevil automobile and motorcycle races; daredevil leaps from speeding automobiles; and other acts.

In one of the acts, advance notices say, Earl Ducheny, Canadian Stunt star will allow another daredevil Nifty Farago, to drive him through a burning wall while he is standing on the front bumper of a stock automobile without any protection whatsoever.

President

H. H. Wolf, Franklin township, is president of the Richland county fair board.

Cream of Cattle To be Exhibited

Cattle competition at the county fair, July 31-Aug 3, inclusive, will bring together the cream of Richland county's livestock in an exhibit for which more than $100 in prizes has been appropriated.

Classes for this department are as follows:

Bulls: Bull, 3 years old and over, $5-$3; bull, 2 years old and under 3, $5-$3; junior yearling bull, $5-$3; senior bull calf, $5-$3.

Cows: Cow, 3 years old and over, $5-$3, cows, 2 years old and under 3, $5-$3, senior yearling heifer, $5-$3; junior yearling heifer, $5-$3; senior heifer calf, $5-$3; graded herd, $5-$3; calf herd, $5-$3, get of sire, $5-$3, produce of dam, $5-$3; champion bull, ribbon, champion female, ribbon.

Cleveland's Troop A Will Stage Drills

Troop A of Mounted Police, the pride of Cleveland's police department and Cleveland itself, will come to Richland county's fair this year, showing on the last two days of the agricultural and farm implement exposition.

Booked as a side attraction, Troop A is a unit of mounted policemen who put on a show which those who have seen it claim is a "show in itself."

The mounted police riders will appear on two days Friday Aug. 2 and Saturday, Aug. 3. The horsemen will stage a drill, trick riding and give a spectacular performance with their horses, all sleek animals, decorated in electric lights of various colors.

Troop A, in its performance here, will be under the direction of Detective George Matowitz.

The horses will be transported to Mansfield in huge trucks and will be quartered in the fairground stables. Visitors are invited to see the animals "city broke" to a degree that is next to uncanny in smartness.

Rodeo, Pine Ridge Revue On Second Day

Climaxed by a sensational attraction in which a girl is shot from a cannon attached to a giant gas-filled balloon at the height of 3,000 feet, the county fair program for Aug. 1, Thursday, will be one of the banner ones of the week.

Preceding the old-time balloon ascension which has a "streamlined" touch with the girl being shot from the cannon in mid-air, the BxB rodeo and Wild West hippodrome and circus acts will be given before the grandstand.

Booked through the Gus Sun agency at Springfield, the rodeo is regarded as the agency's best in rodeo shows.

Trick riding horsemen, expert ropers, broncho riders, steer bull-dozers and several other wild west features comprise the program.

On Thursday evening, the fair board will present the Pine Ridge Revue with Ezra Buzzington, the Silver Cornet Comery band and the Reubenville Frolics. There will be rodeo and circus acts along with this performance.

As a climax to the night show, Battery D, Mansfield's own unit of Ohio National Guardsmen will stage a sham battle in front of the grandstand. All equipment from the local battery will be stationed on the fairground race track. Guardsmen will go through their maneuvers. Efforts are being made to obtain blank ammunition which guardsmen will fire from their guns, including the famous French .75's. A shower of fireworks bombs and a drill by the American Legion Drum corps also form a part of this spectacular finale for an evening show.

Pony Races and Mule Races on Fair's Program

Pony races and mule races will form one of the major attractions at the fair.

Two races for pony riders and two races for mule riders are scheduled for this year's agricultural fun fest.

A mule race and then a pony race will be held on Thursday afternoon and the same race card will be offered on Friday afternoon. Prizes of $10 for the winner, $4 for second place and $2.50 for third place are offered.

The races are for farm and city youths, boys and girls, not members of any pony or mule troupe engaged in professional appearances.

Persons desiring to enter should report at the county fair office, adjacent to the grandstand, early in the afternoon of the races in which they desire to compete.

Junior Olympics New for Fair This Year

All Boys And Girls Can Participate

All Mansfield and Richland county youngsters will have a chance to show their skill in track and field athletic events at this year's county fair.

The Junior Olympics, new venture decided upon by fair board directors is an event expected to draw hundreds of youngsters to the fairground on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 1 and 2 last two days of the four-day fair.

All boys and girls between the ages of nine and 15 years are eligible to compete in the athletic events.

These include nearly all events that are on a track meet program, including dashes, baseball throws, basketball throws, jumps and other events.

Preliminaries will be run off in the morning of Aug. 2 (Friday) and finals will be run off during the following day. Winners in the preliminary events will receive ribbons and winners in the finals will receive cash prizes.

Don D. Cram, physical director at the Y. M. C. A. which is cooperating in arrangement and sponsorship of the event, said that a staff of Y. M. C. A. assistants will be on hand to supervise the athletic tourney.

Staged to replace the annual city playgrounds athletic field day cancelled this year because playgrounds have been discontinued through lack of funds, the Olympics are designed to provide for an all-day affair for children.

Starting at 9 a. m. in the morning, the events will be run off until noon. Fair board directors have arranged for picnic grounds and youngsters are invited to bring their lunches.

As a special concession, for the afternoons of Friday and Saturday, the admission charge for children in the afternoon will be 10 cents to see the grandstand attractions.

Events which will be included in the Olympics this year are as follows:

Boys, nine to 10 years old, 11 to 12 years old and 13 to 15 years old, can enter in these age classes any or all of the following events:

High jump, running broad jump, standing broad jump, baseball throw, baseball accuracy, 30-yard dash, bicycle race, bicycle plank race and model airplane flying, softball throw, or horseshoe tourney.

Girls, nine to 10, 11 to 12 and 13 to 15, all inclusive, can enter the 30-yard dash, baseball throw, standing broad jump, baseball accuracy, bicycle race and bicycle plank races.

Olympics To Start Friday Festivities

Something new in the form of entertainment for fairgoers will be presented Aug. 2, Friday's program at the fair. Directors of the fair board have combined several outstanding attractions to present a program of unusual interest.

Starting out in the morning, the fair will present its first annual Junior Olympics program in which all Mansfield and Richland county youngsters can compete in athletic events

It will be one of two special children's days. Youngsters will report for competition or as spectators in various track meet events at 9 in the morning. Preliminary events will be run off on Friday morning and the finals will be staged on Saturday. Preliminary winners will receive ribbons as their awards and cash prizes will be given winners in Saturday's final events

Directed by Don Cram, physical education director at the Y. M. C. A., the Olympics have been designed to provide a full day's entertainment for youngsters and oldsters as well.

Following the athletic events, the kiddies will picnic on special grounds reserved for them and in the afternoon they will be admitted to the grandstand show for the sum of 10 cents.

The afternoon show will consist of the BXE rodeo, circus acts, and the presentation of Elben Calvert's "Egyptian Follies," an outstanding stage attraction with a cast of 17 persons. The show features Calvert, the magician, who presents several thrill mysteries climaxed by an act called "Hitler's Doom."

At the same performance there will be another balloon ascension in which a girl is shot from a cannon attached to the gas bag. The balloon will be 3,000 feet in the air when the cannon explodes, leaving the girl to fall to earth in a parachute.

The rodeo, circus acts, and the Egyptian Follies will be presented at the night program but in addition Cleveland's Troop A of mounted police racers also will perform with a drill and demonstration in trick riding.
